SUBJECT: EX-COMMUNISTS AS WITNESSES

1. Matusow Case

As you are aware, on January 12, 1955 when Matusow announced that he had lied as a government witness, I instructed Mr. Tompkins and Mr. Lumbard to conduct an investigation to get at the facts. In connection with this investigation will you please see that the following steps are taken:

(a) The FBI and the Internal Security Division, and the IRS should see to it that their records are appropriately marked to show the unreliability of this witness so that in the future no one will be misled about same. These markings should of course be dated and initialed by the person who marks the changes. This same practice should be followed in the future as to any other government witness hereafter found to be unreliable.

(b) The FBI should furnish me a list of any employee security cases in which evidence furnished by Matusow was used. If there are any such cases appropriate steps should immediately be taken to notify the agency where the employee's case was processed, with a recommendation that that case be reviewed and appropriate action taken in fairness to the employee.

(c) Mr. Rogers is preparing instructions for departmental attorneys and prosecutors emphasizing their responsibility in determining reliability of witnesses prior to their use by the government.

(d) Messrs. Tompkins and Lumbard are preparing a report on the Matusow case for me. This will involve not only the results of their investigation into the 1952 New York Communist trial and the Jones case, but also a report on any other court cases or Subversive Activities Control Board cases in which Matusow participated as a government witness. It will also contain a recommendation as to action to be taken by the Department of Justice to protect the rights of the government and of the defendant in all such cases. It will also present any evidence which the government obtains as to whether the Communist Party, U.S.A. or any of its agents, is engaged in a campaign to discredit government witnesses.

SUBJECT:

2. Watson Case

General Swing will immediately turn over to Mr. Olney all information received from the FGC or otherwise indicating perjury by Watson. Mr. Olney will arrange to have an FBI investigation made with a view to prosecution. Mr. Olney will obtain the usual official request from the FGC for the Department of Justice to act.

The FBI will furnish me a list of any employee security cases in which testimony from Watson was used. In accordance with the principles stated above, the affected agency will be notified to examine the effect of any such testimony on proceedings already had. The INS will furnish me with a list of immigration cases - whether naturalization, deportation or otherwise - in which Watson testified, and also a recommendation as to whether or not any case should be re-opened in fairness to the individuals involved in the proceedings.

I noticed in the newspaper that a lawyer in Cleveland has already appealed to the Department to re-open an immigration case there in which Watson is said to have participated as a government witness.

3. [] Case

Mr. Olney will continue his present course of action to determine whether [] committed perjury, and will obtain from the FGC the usual formal request for investigation and prosecution. If the results of the investigation justify it he will proceed with Grand Jury action.

4. Swatic Case

Mr. Tompkins will make a report to me as to the cases and proceedings in which this man has been used as a government witness, and will give me his recommendations as to whether any of them should be re-opened.

5. Patterson and Manning Johnson

Mr. Tompkins will complete his report to me as to whether the action of these two government witnesses in the Balch-Buckley case before the International Organization Loyalty Board requires any additional action in that proceeding, and whether it requires any re-appraisal of their reliability as government witnesses in future proceedings.

SYNOPSIS

Committee consisting of Messrs. Clegg, Belmont and myself considered the problem of furnishing some assurance to Communists and ex-Communists in Government service who cooperate with the Government that due consideration will be given to such cooperation, particularly under the Security of Government Employees Program. Committee rejected suggestion that President issue amendment to EO 10450 and agreed that Attorney General could consider issuance of statement to effect that such individuals by coming forward and identifying themselves can perform a certain service and they may be assured their cooperation will be taken into consideration in the application of the provisions of the present Directives on Security of Government Employees. Also, suggested that if such statement issued by Attorney General; statement could be discussed by Attorney General with members of Cabinet.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that this matter of giving assurance to Communists and ex-Communists who come forward and cooperate with the Government be discussed with the Attorney General, with the thought in mind that the Attorney General may wish to issue a statement indicating that consideration will be given to such Government employees dependent upon the facts in each individual case. Such a statement coming from the Attorney General may have considerable effect and induce Communists and ex-Communists to furnish information to the Government on their past activities.

DETAILS

In accordance with the instructions of Mr. Tolson, a committee consisting of Messrs. Clegg, Belmont and myself have considered the problem of affording some assistance or recognition to Communists and ex-Communists who furnish complete details to the Government concerning their activities as Communists and otherwise cooperate with the Government. These individuals should be given as much consideration as possible. Due to their background, considerable faith must be placed in their motives and oftentimes the public and their employers may not be convinced of the sincerity of their renunciation. As an example, there are still people today who doubt Whittaker Chambers, Louis Budenz and others.

The feeling of ex-Communists in this matter was expressed in a letter to the Bureau dated November 9, 1953, from Ben Gitlow and Maurice Malkin, who both complained that they were considered "second-class" citizens. Gitlow and Malkin have never been Bureau informants, but they have cooperated with the Government in cases against Communists and are now employed as consultants by the Immigration and Naturalization Service on a per diem basis. They pointed out that it was their belief under the provisions of Presidential Executive Orders 9835 and 10450, that employment by the Government of ex-Communists is barred. The provisions of these Executive Orders do not bar the employment of ex-Communists in the Government, but it is necessary to thoroughly investigate all applicants and employees in the Executive Branch to obtain complete background information so that the head of a particular Department can make a determination as to whether the applicant or employee is disloyal. If any ex-Communist under investigation has been cooperative, such fact is made known to the proper agency. It is a matter for determination in each individual case, but nothing in either of the Executive Orders specifically bars from Federal employment ex-Communists who have shown their loyalty through cooperation.

The above-mentioned committee gave consideration to the issuance of an amendment to the Presidential Executive Order on Security of Government Employees which would recognize the assistance rendered by Communists and ex-Communists in the Government who come forward and identify themselves and furnish information relative to their previous activities. This amendment would require the agencies in the Executive Branch to give due consideration to such cooperation before making a determination as to employment or retention in employment of the individual involved. Such a Directive could require the agency in such a case to state that due consideration was given to the employee's cooperative attitude when any decision relative to employment was reached. It was not believed that any blanket recommendation should be contained in said amendment as the matter of employment is a problem which must be handled by the agency and is dependent upon the circumstances in each case.

Consideration was given to the suggestion that an order be issued to individuals generally relative to their cooperating with the Government and if the President amends Executive Order 10450, a statement could be issued explaining the reason why such action was being taken and also indicating to the public generally that in private employment and professional pursuits the American people, having due regard for the faults of others, give full and complete consideration to individuals who renounce their Communist associations and make a full disclosure of such past activity. Such a statement coming from the President after the Director's article, "Breaking the Communist Spell" and the statements of various congressional committees would have considerable effect in giving Communists and ex-Communists who cooperate a greater recognition than they have been receiving. Any such statement by the President should, of course, be general in nature as the manner and degree of cooperation of each individual is a matter which would have to be considered on an individual basis and on its own merits.

The committee also considered the question of Communists and ex-Communists who cooperate with the Government, as in the case of Theodore Lit, and who at one time or another may have violated Federal or state laws on false swearing, fraud, etc., due to denials in the past of Communist affiliation or association.

CONCLUSIONS OF COMMITTEE

The committee felt that it would be difficult for the President to issue a statement on this matter, and a better plan would be for the Attorney General to do so. It will be recalled that the Attorney General has been designated to render advice to enable the agencies to establish and maintain an appropriate Security of Government Employees

Program. In view of that fact, the Attorney General would be the logical official to issue a statement such as herein proposed.

The committee considered whether in this statement the Attorney General should say that ex-Communists due to the conspiratorial nature of their past activity may have violated Federal laws and their present attitude and cooperation will be given the utmost consideration in any prosecutive action which may be pending against them or which may be considered in the future based upon their past activity.

The Attorney General need not grant any blanket immunity through such a statement, but could encourage ex-Communists to come forth on the assumption that their appearance will not immediately place their freedom in jeopardy and, in fact, there would be a good possibility that they would not be prosecuted.

With regard to state violations by Communists and ex-Communists, the Attorney General would have no power over such violations, but consideration was given to including in any statement of the Attorney General recognition by the Attorney General to such state violations and suggesting that the states give most careful consideration to Communists and ex-Communists who cooperate with the Government and who may have violated state laws while engaged in Communist activity in the past.

Careful consideration was given by the committee to the content of any statement by the Attorney General and it was decided that a statement could be issued as follows:

The Administration has been successful in eliminating from Government employment many individuals whose loyalty is doubtful and whenever such persons are located in the Government their services will be terminated. The Government cannot afford to tolerate in its employ individuals who by their actions indicate a lack of wholehearted allegiance to this country. It is recognized, however, that Communists and ex-Communists in the Government service by coming forward and identifying themselves can be of particular assistance and they are encouraged to do so. Such individuals may be assured that their cooperation will be taken into consideration in the application of the provisions of the present Directives on Security of Government Employees, dependent upon the facts in each individual case.

It is felt that this matter should be discussed with the Attorney General and the suggestion made to the Attorney General that he may wish to issue a statement such as that which is set forth above.

During such discussion it may also be pointed out that the Attorney General may wish to discuss such a statement prior to its issuance or at the time of issuance at a Cabinet meeting so that all Department heads in the Government will be aware of the fact that due consideration should be given to individuals who renounce Communism and perform a service to the Government by furnishing information relative to past association and affiliation with Communist activities. Such a statement by the Attorney General may be of considerable value in granting assurance to individuals in the Government and elsewhere who are presently wavering in their allegiance to Communism and need some reassurance that their coming forward will be given as much consideration as possible.

Reference is made to your memorandum dated February 21, 1955, instructing that certain action be taken with respect to files containing information obtained from Harvey Marshall Matusow and [redacted]. In addition, you requested a list of any employee security cases in which evidence or testimony from Matusow and Watson is set out.

By memorandum dated February 21, 1955, captioned "Harvey Marshall Matusow," Assistant Attorney General, William F. Tompkins, Internal Security Division, requested that he be advised in which reports previously furnished to the Internal Security Division Matusow appears by name or informant symbol.

Attached is a list of employee security cases containing information furnished by [redacted] and Matusow. The list furnishes the full caption of the report or letter involved and notes whether the informant's identity is set out openly or concealed by informant symbol. In the latter instances, the pertinent informant symbols are noted. Dissemination of the communications is also set out.

Copies of this list are attached also for Mr. Rogers, Mr. Tompkins, and the Records Administration Branch of the Department. Mr. Tompkins is being advised by separate correspondence of similar cases other than those of an employee security nature.

Pursuant to your instructions, all other agencies which have been furnished copies of the communications listed in the attached are being advised by letter of the pertinent information for any action deemed appropriate by the agency concerned. Also, the pertinent files of this Bureau are being appropriately marked to show the unreliability of Matusow and [redacted].

Field has been alerted to advise Bureau of any other cases involving Matusow's and [] information noted in future file reviews.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

That Mr. Nichols give the attached memo and list to Mr. Rogers for the Attorney General (original). One copy is attached also for Rogers, Tompkins, and Records Administration Branch. It is suggested also that Mr. Nichols advise Mr. Rogers that the list is not necessarily complete. It is suggested that Mr. Nichols advise Mr. Rogers of the extensive search already conducted by the Bureau (as noted above) in identifying the cases in the attached list. It should also be pointed out to Mr. Rogers that the Bureau has gone as far as possible in this matter, short of a physical page by page check of files in each of the hundreds of thousands of Loyalty, SGE, and Applicant-type cases which the Bureau has conducted. In the event other cases of a similar nature are noted in future file reviews, the same will be brought to the attention of the Department and other appropriate action will be taken.

Reference is made to an undated copy of a memorandum to you from the Commissioner, Immigration and Naturalization Service, received at this Bureau March 3, 1955. Item IV in this memorandum pertains to Anthony Cvetic and Joseph Masoli. The Commissioner, Immigration and Naturalization Service, states that he would appreciate receiving any information which would tend to cast doubt on the propriety of the continued use of these two individuals as informants.

Your attention is called to my letter to you of May 13, 1954, captioned, "Informants and Witnesses of the Immigration and Naturalization Service." A 7-page attachment to this letter contained information from this Bureau's files concerning individuals utilized by the Immigration and Naturalization Service as informants.

In pages 4 and 5 of the attachment it was pointed out that Anthony Cvetic was discontinued as an informant by this Bureau in view of various indiscretions on his part, such as one incident wherein he had allegedly been drinking heavily and had revealed to a female companion the fact that he was furnishing information to the FBI concerning Communist activities. During the period of time from January, 1950, to the present, there have been additional allegations of intemperance and indiscretions of a similar nature on the part of this individual.

For your additional information, on numerous occasions both by memorandum and orally from December, 1950, until March, 1953, when the Pittsburgh Smith Act Wagon, the Department and the United States Attorney, Pittsburgh were fully advised of Cvetic's background, indiscretions and questionable public statements he had made subsequent to his discontinuance as an informant.

From Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization

Pro-Communists as Witnesses

With respect to your memoranda of February 21 and February 25, 1955, concerning the subject, please be advised as follows:

I. HARVEY MATUSOW

- (a) Attached hereto, marked Attachment I, is memorandum concerning Harvey Matusow, which sets forth pertinent data as to his background and use. You will note therein that this Service discontinued his use as a witness on April 8, 1954. To further assure that Matusow is not used by this Service, instructions prohibiting his use have been re-emphasized.
- (b) This paragraph does not pertain to this Service.
- (c) In line with instructions to be issued to Departmental attorneys and prosecutors now being prepared by Mr. Rogers, L.F. Winings, the Service General Council, discussed with Mr. Robert Minor as to whether any action by the Service was desired, and the latter advised that for the present, none was desired.
- (d) As reflected in Attachment I, Service records disclose that Matusow testified in only one Service proceeding. In view of corroborating testimony of three other witnesses, the alien's refusal to testify at her hearing and her departure from the United States, it is recommended that no further action be taken with respect to the Davidoff case, notwithstanding Matusow's testimony therein.

In accordance with your instructions, I have forwarded to Mr. Olney the information received by this Service from the Federal Communications Commission indicating perjury by [redacted]

Attached hereto, for your information, and marked Attachment II, is a list of deportation and denaturalization cases in which [] testified as a Government witness. The deportation cases are now being reviewed and you will be furnished as soon as possible with a recommendation as to whether any of the cases should be reopened. With respect to the cases of LOUIS ZUKER, COSTAS ATHAS, and [] shown on Attachment II, instructions have been issued to schedule continued deportation hearings as soon as possible.

For your further information, there is also attached hereto, marked Attachment III, a list of denaturalization cases in which [] was to have been a Government witness in court proceedings.

I am also attaching hereto, marked Attachment IV, a copy of a memorandum concerning [] which sets forth pertinent data concerning him and his discontinuance as a witness in Service proceedings.

The newspaper article, referred to in your memorandum of February 21, 1955, concerning a lawyer in Cleveland appealing to the Department to reopen an immigration case, refers to the case of ALLEN SHIFRIN, which is reflected in Attachment II. This Service has not received any appeal or request by the alien or his attorney with respect to the case.

III. []

This Service has not utilized [] either as an informant or witness.

IV. MATTHEW GUTTIC and []

With reference to these two witnesses, I am compiling a list of Service cases in which they have testified and shall forward it to you as soon as it is completed. In addition, the cases are being reviewed and you will be furnished as soon as possible with recommendations as to any action to be taken therein. I have no information that either of these witnesses is unreliable or that their testimony is not to be given full credence. I would appreciate receiving any information in the possession of any Division of the Department which would tend to cast doubts on the propriety of our continued use of these two informants.

This Service will await determination by the Department with respect to a reappraisal of the reliability of these two persons as Government witnesses, although we have no reason to believe, based on their testimony in administrative hearings before this Service, that their reliability is to be doubted. In the interim, pending such reappraisal, they will not be utilized as witnesses by this Service although they will still be used as informants, and appropriate instructions have been issued.

With respect to Service use of ex-Communists as witnesses, as I advised you on February 21, 1955, the Service ceased using such persons as consultants on July 23, 1954.* Further, on September 13, 1954, I issued a directive to the field offices relative to the payments to witnesses, sources of information and confidential informants, and deliberately omitted any reference to consultants so that all persons were to be known as informants or witnesses. I am attaching hereto, for your information, a copy of that directive, marked Attachment V.

I am furnishing a copy of this memorandum and attachments to Messrs. Rogers, Hoover, Tompkins, and Olney.

*At this time all contracts in which these individuals were referred to as consultants were cancelled.

MEMORANDUM IN RE HARVEY MATUSOW (56319/658)

Background

The subject was born on October 3, 1926, in New York City, New York. He came to the attention of the New York office of this Service as a result of an article in the January 19, 1951, issue of the "Daily Worker" in which it was stated that he had been expelled from the Communist Party.

Efforts directed by the Central Office to develop him as an informant were initiated but were unsuccessful until April 8, 1952, when he was interviewed by an Investigator attached to the Cincinnati, Ohio, office of this Service. On that date he stated that he had joined the American Youth for Democracy during October 1946 and that he had been a member of the Communist Party from 1947 to January 1951. He furnished information concerning persons whom he believed to be foreign born and to his knowledge members of the Communist Party. On May 15, 1952, he furnished information regarding his background to two investigators attached to the New York office. He was again interviewed at the New York office on September 11, 1952, at which time he stated that he had joined the Communist Party during October 1947 and furnished further information concerning his activities while a member of the Party. On September 16 and 17, 1952, he was interviewed at the Central Office with respect to information he claimed to have regarding Communist infiltration into the south-western United States.

On February 2, 1953, pursuant to request of the New York office that office was authorized to utilize the subject as an informant for a maximum of five days during the current fiscal year. On May 12, 1953, he appeared as a witness in the deportation hearing of [redacted] ([redacted]), who departed to Canada under a warrant of deportation on June 30, 1953. On December 31, 1953, request of the New York office for authorization to employ the subject for not more than ten days during the year ending June 30, 1954, was granted.

ENCLOSURE

Matusov was used as a Government witness by this Service in only one proceeding on May 12, 1953. He did not act as an identifying witness. He only testified that anyone employed by the newspaper the "Daily Worker" had to be a Communist Party member. His testimony on this point was corroborated by witnesses Maurice Malkin, Manning Johnson and John J. Huber. This was in connection with the deportation proceeding of [redacted] a native and citizen of Canada, age 35, who was admitted to the United States for permanent residence on September 16, 1946. On March 27, 1953, a warrant was issued for her arrest under Section 241(a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act on the ground that after entry in the United States she had been affiliated with the Communist Party of the United States. On May 22, 1953, she was found deportable by a special inquiry officer on the ground that she had been a member of and affiliated with the Communist Party. This finding was based on her employment by the Communist newspaper, the "Daily Worker". She refused to testify at the deportation hearing. Evidence of her employment by the "Daily Worker" consisted of the testimony of two neighbors who stated that she had informed them that she was employed by the "Daily Worker", certified copies of Forms W-2 (Withholding Statement) showing that she was employed by Freedom of the Press Company, Inc., (Publishers of the "Daily Worker") and an application for a marriage license showing her residence at 50 East 13th Street, New York City, the address of Freedom of the Press Company, Inc.

b6
b7C

On June 26, 1953, [redacted] appeal was dismissed by the Board of Immigration Appeals. She departed to Canada under a warrant of deportation on June 30, 1953.

Termination of Use

On April 8, 1954, Mr. Noto instructed Mr. Flagg at New York that subject was not to be used as witness in Service proceedings. This action was taken on receipt of information that the subject had written letters to his wife in which he stated that he had committed perjury in testifying regarding communism.

Fees Paid

According to Mr. McGaffin, fiscal records indicate he received a total of $209.01 ($144.00 fees; $60.51 transportation; $4.50 per diem).

FORMER SECURITY INFORMANT*EX COMMUNISTS AS WITNESSES*

On the evening of 3/16/55 JAMES EADIE, Chief of the Brownsville, Pa., Police Department, telephonically advised SA CARL L. SHERWOOD that CVETIC on that date had been arrested by Patrolman SAM NICOLA of the Brownsville, Pa., PD for drunken driving. According to EADIE, CVETIC had driven his 1953 Lincoln into a ditch. Chief EADIE requested advice as to what action he should take with regard to CVETIC. EADIE stated that CVETIC had not made any statements with regard to the FBI but that he (EADIE) assumed he should contact the Bureau concerning CVETIC's arrest.

Chief EADIE was advised by SA SHERWOOD that CVETIC had no present connection with this Bureau and that he was not at any time an employee or agent of this Bureau. SA SHERWOOD further advised EADIE that this Bureau certainly would not intercede for any individual charged with a violation of law and that he would have to adhere to his own procedures with regard to the arrest of CVETIC.

Chief EADIE further stated that he intended to let CVETIC "sober up" and if the Burgess of Brownsville so desired, would have CVETIC fill out a check for fines and costs.

SA SHERWOOD was subsequently advised on 3/16/55 by [] that EADIE had called said informant and told informant that he (EADIE) was going to have someone drive CVETIC back to Pittsburgh and that the entire matter would be forgotten. [] further advised SA SHERWOOD that it was his impression that no publicity would result from the above arrest of CVETIC.

Reference is made to my memorandum of March 31, 1955, which furnished to you information concerning the hospitalization of Matthew Cvetic for an alleged nervous disorder. My memorandum also pointed out that the "Valley Journal," a newspaper publication at Millvale, Pennsylvania, is in possession of a file concerning [redacted] and should [redacted] and his attorney, Harry Alan Sherman, bring suit regarding an editorial concerning [redacted] published during August, 1954, the newspaper will make use of this file to expose [redacted] as a perjurer.

For your information, the records of the St. Francis Hospital, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, were made available to an Agent of this Bureau on April 1, 1955. These records revealed that Matthew Cvetic was admitted to that hospital on February 17, 1955, upon application for admission signed by [redacted] who believed that Cvetic was mentally ill and requiring immediate temporary treatment in a mental hospital due to "drinking." W. J. Kelly, M.D., who examined Cvetic upon admission certified on February 17, 1955, that Cvetic was "mentally ill" from the following facts indicating mental disease: Pt. (patient) is restless, agitated, has a suspicious attitude, seems afraid, admits drinking heavily of late. Is admitted as a chronic alcoholic."

b7C

The records further show that on February 17, 1955, [redacted] signed permission to physicians of St. Francis Hospital to use electric convulsive therapy or Metrazol therapy in the treatment

The Hospital, Psychiatric Division history sheet dated February 17, 1955, revealed that Cvetic used liquor very heavily for a period of five years and quit altogether two and one-half years ago.

and has been with "A.A." (Alcoholics Anonymous). This sheet further stated that Gvetic has been doctoring for a nervous condition and that he began drinking on February 13 and February 14, 1955, and again on February 17, 1955. The sheet revealed that on February 17, 1955, [redacted] went to [redacted] residence at the latter's request, found him to be despondent and unsettled and called the William Penn Hotel doctor who administered medicine and recommended hospitalization. Gvetic was described as a depressive person [redacted] could not understand him and who had been treated for a nervous condition shortly after his marriage in 1929 by one Dr. Mitchell. The history sheet which was signed by Cyril H. Necht, junior interne, revealed that on that date Gvetic was restless, anxious, and nervous and Necht was of the opinion that Gvetic was suffering from (1) early essential hypertension, and (2) anxiety neurosis.

b7c

Gvetic was discharged from the hospital on March 5, 1955, at which time a discharge note was prepared by Dr. J. A. Malcolm. This note pointed out that Gvetic had been admitted for treatment in the Alcoholic Department, St. Francis Hospital. The note further pointed out that Gvetic was known previously because of anxiety reaction and that he used alcohol to excess in the past. The note indicated that Gvetic recently became depressed because of personal difficulties and began to drink which precipitated his admission to the hospital. The note further indicated that four shock treatments were administered in an attempt to dissipate the depression attitude and that Gvetic was considerably improved and was discharged earlier than planned due to urgent personal business. During the above-mentioned confinement electroshock therapy was administered; Gvetic's condition was improved, and the medical prognosis was listed as "good."

Gvetic was readmitted to St. Francis Hospital on March 17, 1955 by application signed by [redacted] which set forth no reason why [redacted] was believed to be mentally ill. A certification was executed on March 19, 1955, by E. J. Kelly, M.D., which revealed that Gvetic was believed to be mentally ill due to the fact that he "is apathetic, withdrawn, depressed, wanders about aimlessly, does not speak until spoken to, admits drinking recently."

A history sheet dated March 17, 1955, signed by David A. Gehring, Junior Intern, revealed that Gvetic was then believed to be suffering from hypertension. Gvetic was ultimately discharged from the hospital at 11:35 A.M. on March 26, 1955.

Gvetic's hospital file also contained a subpoena issued by the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County "in the matter of Hyman Schlesinger" which directed that all hospital records indicating hospital treatment to Matthew Gvetic from 1945 to the present be produced before the Committee of Offenses, Allegheny County War Association, Pittsburgh, on March 22, 1955. Director Harry Adole, Assistant Administrator, who made the above records available, stated that these records were produced before the Allegheny County War Association on March 22, 1955, for use in the disbarment proceedings conducted by that association with respect to Hyman Schlesinger, Pittsburgh attorney.

The above information is being furnished to United States Attorney John W. Hollivine in response to his request as noted in my letter of March 31, 1955.

For your additional information on March 31, 1955, a source who has furnished reliable information in the past advised that Isidore Gliby Needleman, former labor attorney and suspected Soviet agent, was in contact with (b) Green, Executive Secretary, American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born, after discussing other matters, Green asked Needleman, "How do you like our friend Gvetic?" Needleman laughed and Green asked if it wasn't terrific to which Needleman replied, "They should all go crazy." Needleman stated that he supposed they "will get a report on what happened on their motion." Green replied, "Yes, they made it Monday."

Reveal Cvetic, Gov't Stoolie Was in Hospital as Alcoholic

PITTSBURGH, March 30 (FP).—Evidence that government witness Matthew Cvetic is a mentally unstable alcoholic was submitted by the Western Pennsylvania Committee for Protection of the Foreign Born in petitions seeking reopening of two deportation cases in which Cvetic testified.

Cvetic, who has a police record of an indictment for assault and battery on his sister-in-law, was revealed to have been a mental patient as recently as March 19.

Hospital records cited by the committee showed Cvetic was admitted to St. Francis Hospital, Psychiatric Division, on Feb. 17, was discharged March 5 and readmitted March 19. "Patient is restless, agitated, has a suspicious attitude, seems afraid, admits drinking heavily of late, is admitted as a chronic alcoholic," reported Dr. W. J. Kelly who examined Cvetic on his first admission according to the committee.

has been with Alcoholics Anonymous. Patient has been doctoring for a nervous condition. He started drinking this past Sunday and Monday, Feb. 13 and 14. . . . He has been very despondent and unsettled since (he resumed drinking)."

Cvetic's medical record "corroborates the charge of all the victims of this informer that his testimony is unreliable, that his motives are questionable, and that his use by the Justice Department and other government agencies calls for an investigation," the committee declared. It demanded immediate reopening of all cases in which Cvetic testified, and an investigation of "the informer racket" by the Senate judiciary committee.

The committee petition quoted further from the hospital record: "Patient used liquor very heavily for a period of five years, but quit altogether 2½ years ago and has been with Alcoholics Anonymous. Patient has been doctoring for a nervous condition. He started drinking this past Sunday and Monday, Feb. 13 and 14. . . . He has been very despondent and unsettled since (he resumed drinking)."

Cvetic has testified against hundreds of persons in political hearings and trials, as well as in denaturalization and deportation cases.

Green indicated that the above was of the greatest importance to the case in the Court of Appeals in Chicago on [] or [] and stated that Gvetic had been the sole witness. (This probably refers to [] subject of an internal security investigation by this Bureau, who is under consideration for deportation to Yugoslavia. The deportation proceedings concerning [] have received publicity in the Chicago area.) Needleman wondered if the report had been obtained from the hospital through subpoena but Green did not think so. Green said that he had seen "Ivy" in Washington and mentioned something about getting it out of Pennsylvania, but said "this person not using subpoena because he wanted to reason with me." Green said, "To have sympathizers and friends. They may not agree with us but they don't like liars or drunkards to rule the roost."

For your additional information there is attached a photostat of an article concerning Gvetic's hospitalization which appeared in the "Daily Worker" for March 31, 1955.

Regarding [] a source who has requested that his identity be kept confidential advised an agent of our Pittsburgh Office that he believes [] in carrying a firearm in a shoulder holster. Source based this belief on the fact that during the summer of 1954, [] purchased a suit and had a tailor sew a loop on the lining of the left-hand side of the jacket. The tailor questioned [] as to the purpose of the loop and [] replied that he wanted to pass a strap from his shoulder holster through the loop. When questioned as to why he was wearing a shoulder holster, [] replied either "that he was working for the Government" or "working for the FBI." Although source could not remember seeing [] wearing a shoulder holster, he advised that [] had in addition to the above suit, requested the tailor to sew a loop in a blue serge suit purchased by [] in the latter part of December, 1954.

In response to the Director's request, there is set forth the principal arguments I have been using on the use of informants, necessity, etc.

The so-called informant is as old as man. History is replete with accounts of their use. In fact, Moses employed this device when he sent, by virtue of a Divine directive, men to spy on the land of Canaan for forty days, sizing up the people, their cities and mode of life. (Numbers 13 and 14). As a result of information gained, and the question of confrontation was not raised, the chosen people were lead to greater accomplishment that started the glorious tradition of a race proud of its culture and which has never wavered in its quest for freedom.

The use of the informant coincided with the rise and fall of civilization. Hannibal, after a long siege of a city in Sicily, sent a trusted war veteran into the city - there he developed his informants and reported back to Hannibal on the weaknesses of what were supposed to be impregnable fortifications.

Herodotus in Book V of his Persian wars, 500 B.C., proved that through the use of informants the best information comes from the inner citadel of the enemy. Such information down through the years protected truth and justice and was the indispensable weapon on the side of freedom.

Wilhelm Steinhilber made possible the rise of Bismarck by developing a network of informants that lasted until World War I.

Nathan Hale was a Revolutionary hero who developed informants.

In fact, the wild clamor today against informants is an assault on tradition and custom. The Communist tactic of divide and conquer, as the Fascist tactic, first seeks to sow seeds of doubt and debunk tradition.

The informant system was well established in the old English Common Law and later Parliament, by enactments, provided for forfeitures and penalties with a portion going to the King, the poor and the informer.

As early as 1789, Congress gave sanction to the role of the informer to stimulate enforcement of custom laws. Today the informer gets 25 per cent of amounts recovered, not to exceed $50,000, in forfeitures under the customs laws. (Title 19, USC, 1619)

Informers are authorized by Congress to bring suits in the name of the U. S. Government in frauds against the Government with a potential reward of one-fourth of the proceeds of the suit. (T 31, USC, 232)

One-half of the penalty goes to informers in Indian Affairs cases. (T 25, USC 201). Informers also can secure one-half of benefits in seizures of liquor on Indian reservations. (T 18, USC 913).

Evasion of Internal Revenue laws can secure up to one-half of the penalty recovered. (T 26, USC, 3617). Narcotic laws, Title 21, USC, 193; Navigation laws, Title 46, USC, 497 and 710; Postal laws, Title 39, USC, 9; and numerous other Acts of Congress recognize the informer as an institution and give him protection.

In criminal law enforcement, the informer is a well-established institution. The same applies to the one American institution that is our most potent protection against tyranny - the American press. There is little difference in the use of the informer by the press and particularly some columnists who use the investigative process.

Few Pulitzer Prizes have been won without first the tip and then development of the sources of information. Some of the most glorious days of journalism are found in the tradition of the press in protecting its sources of information. Even reporters have gone to jail and to fame by standing firm - i.e., Martin Mooney in New York exposures.

The FBI has always protected its sources and it has been able to secure information because of its tradition of maintaining a confidence. In the few cases where informants have been disclosed, it has been by their own acts: the "Woman in Red" who fingered Dillinger; through policy determination and the judicial process - the Coplon case; and through inadvertence of the informer himself.

Times - events - situations - all dictate procedures. So far as the FBI is concerned, the informant became of paramount importance with the rise of clandestine movements whereby the only proof of the conspiracy came as a result of penetrating the lair of the conspirator. b7D

This Nation forever owes a debt of gratitude to [] the FBI informer who went to the Nazi spy school in Germany and around whom the German Espionage Service was built prior to World War II. Defense policies were influenced by him, but had confrontation been forced prematurely, the people of the United States, not the FBI, would have suffered because responsibility has a way of finding its final resting place. The informant contributed to the unparalleled record of no enemy sabotage in World War II. Because of the informant the dangerous alien enemies were promptly arrested after Pearl Harbor.

The only way the Ku Klux Klan, as well as the Communist Party, has been thwarted, is through the informant.

This Nation would become defenseless and open prey if arms and ammunition were taken from our Armed Services. By the same token, it would be helpless against the subversive if the FBI were deprived of its informants and confidential investigative techniques.

The proof of this is found in the intensity with which the Communist Party has sought to expose, discredit and destroy informants and former Communists who have testified.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

From the earliest days, Communists have reserved their vilest epithets for the informant whom they labelled as "stool pigeons." The Daily Worker and Communist publications are constantly shrieking at the informant. Pamphlets are sent out broadside and propaganda attacks leveled at informants; smear brigades write letters to editors and public officials.

All America hates a "double crosser" and those who "snitch" - thus, the Communists have directed an attractive appeal that has influenced good Americans. To pervert justice is an American horror - thus, the Communists find a ready-made instrument in the double-dealing Harvey Matusow.

By applying syllogistic reasoning, they start out with the premise that the FBI uses informants - Matusow was an informant - Matusow recanted - therefore all informants are potential recanters and should be banned.

FBI safeguards against double crossers must work, otherwise, Matusow would not be the first case of its type and the record is clear that Matusow was dropped as an informant in December of 1950 after being carried in this role for six months. Even so, Matusow has not been proven to be wrong - he just says he is after he placed himself back in the Communist clutches.

Eighty-two Smith Act convictions, each brought about through the use of informants, have been subjected to the strictest judicial scrutiny. To date the convictions stand.

In loyalty cases the FBI is a service agency. In the early days of the loyalty program the Director laid the facts on the line before the Civil Service Loyalty Review Board which fixed the policy and the Board faced the realistic fact that the protection of the government demanded that all information bearing on loyalty be secured, even if it meant concealing identities. It is unfortunate, but true, that in many instances more energy has been diverted in ascertaining the identity of informants than in ascertaining the truth furnished by informants.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The FBI checks upon informants by checking other informants, by ascertaining whether they were at certain points and by following out all leads if informants turn sour or become unreliable. They are dropped faster than chained lightning. Of course, one turns out bad on occasions, so did one of the Twelve Disciples; but are the others to be condemned who have been proven? And where do the loudest shouts emanate?

Unfortunately, the true record has not been placed before the public. By Executive Order loyalty data cannot be disclosed. There is no way whereby the FBI can make public the record when the charge is made that a Government employee does not know his accusers. The facts are to the contrary. The FBI endeavors to secure signed statements. In some instances this is not possible because the informant is not a live person but an event - a Communist Party dues book or document produced by another informant which has on many occasions been found to be in the handwriting of the accused. (S)(U)

The informant is an institution - in criminal proceedings there is the constitutional safeguard of confrontation - but employment in the Government is a privilege and not a right and the employer has the right to employ whom he chooses. When the employer is the Government and a public trust, the employer has the duty to resolve doubt in the interest of security.

Sure, a lot of people are against security and loyalty programs, but for what reason. [redacted] wrote letters denouncing security to the editor for 4 years before his arrest for a security breach. Naturally he was against security and the same applies to others.

In connection with his conference with Attorney General on Tuesday, April 5, 1955, Director has indicated reference was made to case of [redacted] at which time Director advised Attorney General of developments in libel action brought against [redacted] by [redacted] Assistant Attorney General Tompkins indicated his Division had not been advised of such information. Director desired to know when information was received, whether it was forwarded to Tompkins, and if not the reason therefor.

In this regard it is noted that by memorandum dated April 5, 1955, from you to the Director information was set forth that it had been learned from Departmental Attorney Troy B. Conner in a discussion relative to other matters that the above-mentioned conference with Attorney General would possibly include discussion of five individuals, one of whom was [redacted] who have been utilized as witnesses before the Subversive Activities Control Board. At this time Conner indicated that Department was making inquiry of United States Attorney in Seattle to ascertain current status of libel action against [redacted]

Inasmuch as it was indicated that [redacted] would be individually discussed at the Attorney General's conference it was felt the Director should have the latest information on this libel action. Such information was telephonically obtained, therefore, from our Seattle Office on Friday, April 1, 1955, and inserted in the brief for the Director on this matter.

In view of the previous advice that Department was obtaining this information it was not felt necessary to forward same upon receipt from Seattle. Since Department apparently was not successful in obtaining such information, however, it is being furnished at this time.

RECOMMENDATION:

It should have been sent upon receipt

There is attached for your approval an appropriate communication to the Department in accordance with the above.

Under date of March 21, 1955, the Attorney General has submitted a status report regarding the use of ex-Communists as witnesses. This report contains instructions as to future steps to be taken by the various divisions of the Department and is in the nature of a follow-up to the Attorney General's memorandum of February 21, 1955.

The memorandum dated March 21, 1955, covers a number of separate but interrelated topics. For the sake of clarity, observations concerning each topic and an appropriate recommendation are being set forth in the same order that they appear in the Attorney General's memorandum.

1. MATUSOW MATTERS

Item 1 (a) deals with employee security cases in which Matusow furnished information. The Attorney General states that if the FBI finds additional such employee security cases, or similar cases other than employee cases, it will notify Internal Security Division.

Observation:

By memorandum dated March 2, 1955, the Attorney General was furnished a list of employee security cases found to contain information from Matusow. Copies of the list were also furnished to Messrs. Rogers and Tompkins and to the Records Administration Branch of the Department. In addition, each Government agency concerned was advised of the identity of the particular document containing Matusow's information and was advised of the temporary informant symbol given Matusow in those instances where his identity was concealed. Several additional cases have since been located and the Department and pertinent Government agencies have been advised. Should other cases containing information from Matusow be located, appropriate notification will be given the Department and any other Government agency concerned.

Likewise, in security and other similar cases, in each case wherein it has been determined that Matusow furnished information and was concealed by a T symbol or characterized as to reliability, we have advised the Records Administration Branch and other agencies to whom the reports were disseminated.

Recommendation:

It is recommended that we advise the Attorney General that the FBI has already advised interested Government agencies in cases wherein Matusow has furnished information and has been concealed by a temporary symbol or characterized as to reliability.

Item 1 (b) deals with Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) cases in which Matusow has testified. There is no comment since this pertains to INS alone.

Item 1 (c)(i) deals with a report to be submitted by Messrs. Tompkins and Lumbard on Court cases, Subversive Activities Control Board (SACB) cases and employee security cases in which Matusow was involved. For your information on March 12, 1955, the motion for a new trial in the Clinton Edward Jencks case was denied and on March 16, 1955, Judge Robert E. Thomason, Western District of Texas, sentenced Matusow to three years for contempt for repudiating his Jencks trial testimony.

The hearing in the Flynn (New York Smith Act) case ended March 21, 1955. Briefs are to be filed with Judge Dimock by March 25, 1955.

SACB cases are discussed below and employee security cases are covered above.

Recommendation:

We are following very closely the hearings relative to the Flynn case and you will be advised of pertinent facts as they occur.

Item 1 (c)(ii) states that the report of Messrs. Tompkins and Lumbard should cover evidence of a Communist plot against the Department, any part thereof, or of a campaign against Government informants and witnesses. For your information a detailed eight-page memorandum with thirty attachments relating to this subject was furnished to Assistant Attorney General Tompkins on March 14, 1955; additional information was furnished to the Attorney General, Messrs. Rogers and Tompkins on March 14, 1955, and further information to Assistant Attorney General Tompkins by memorandum of March 17, 1955.

Recommendation:

We will continue to keep the Department currently advised of all information received reflecting on this subject.

Item 1 (c)(iii) deals with possible discipline of any Department employee who did not maintain proper standards in preparing or using Matusow in behalf of the Government. No comment is being made since this is a Department matter.

This item also deals with a memorandum from INS dated February 24, 1955, wherein INS states that Matusow was not used as a witness after April 8, 1954, "on receipt of information that the subject had written letters to his wife in which he stated that he had committed perjury in testifying regarding Communism." The Attorney General asks if the FBI and Internal Security were notified of this at the time. We have not located any indication that INS did call our attention to this information at the time; however, it is felt that this is a matter for INS to answer rather than the FBI.

This item also asks whether newspaper reports are accurate which state that Matusow testified before a Congressional Committee that he could personally identify 10,000 Communists in New York City. Our files reflect that Matusow on March 13, 1952, testified before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security, Washington, D. C., in a hearing concerning the Institute of Pacific Relations. Matusow said that while a Communist Party member he had worked in three Communist Party bookshops. He described the nature of these bookshops and when questioned concerning people coming in to buy books he stated "Yes, in my position in the bookshop I knew by sight probably 10,000 Party members in New York. I had seen them at various mass meetings or they knew me to be a Communist." A copy of this public hearing was furnished to Assistant Attorney General Charles B. Murray by memorandum dated September 23, 1952, captioned "Institute of Pacific Relations, Espionage - R." Our memorandum pointed out that this testimony contained testimony of Harvey M. Matusow.

This item also asks "Was there anything in Bishop Oxnam's public statements that should have alerted us?" Information concerning Bishop Oxnam's statement that Matusow had admitted that he had lied was furnished to the Department by memoranda dated July 6 and 20, 1954.

Recommendation:

It is recommended that we point out to the Attorney General that Matusow's statement concerning 10,000 Communists was furnished to the Department and that information concerning Bishop Oxnam's statement was also furnished to the Department.

Item 1 (c)(iv) states that the report of Messrs. Tompkins and Lumbard should include recommendations as to proposed prosecution or further Congressional investigation of Cameron, Kahn or other individuals or labor unions.

For your information Donald Angus Cameron is a Security Index subject. He appeared before the Eastland Committee on February 17, 18, 1955, in Executive Session and invoked the Fifth Amendment when asked if he was a Communist Party member. The testimony was forwarded to New York by Bureau letter March 3, 1955, for analysis to determine if Cameron committed perjury in his testimony.

Albert Eugene Kahn is a Security Index subject. Kahn testified before the Eastland Committee in Executive Session on February 23, 26, 1955, and invoked the Fifth Amendment in answer to questions concerning his membership in the Communist Party. Kahn's testimony was forwarded to New York by letter dated March 17, 1955, for analysis to determine if Kahn committed perjury.

We have learned that the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (IUMMSW) agreed in September, 1954, to buy 2000 copies of Matusow's book at 50 cents each. This agreement was made with Cameron and Kahn, publishers of the book, before Matusow had even contacted Cameron and Kahn. Kahn later put Matusow in touch with Nathan Witt, attorney for the union, who obtained an affidavit from Matusow repudiating his testimony in the Jencks case.

This chain of circumstances is being considered, along with other evidence, by Federal Grand Juries in New York and El Paso as a possible conspiracy to obstruct justice.

Recommendation:

We will follow closely all ramifications of the Matusow matter including those dealing with Cameron, Kahn, and the IUMMSW.

Item 1 (c)(v) states "Should there be closer liaison between INS and the FBI as to information as to witnesses and informants?" Under date of May 13, 1954, a letter was transmitted to the Attorney General concerning informants and witnesses used by INS. Attached was a 74-page memorandum furnishing brief sketches on each informant or witness being used by INS. It was pointed out that although many of the individuals used by INS appeared to be completely reliable, others such as Matthew Cvetic, [redacted] and Harvey Matusow have demonstrated their untrustworthiness and unreliability. It was stated in this memorandum that it was strongly felt that the FBI should not be called upon to vouch for the reliability of those individuals who are not under our control nor attempt to advise INS which informants or witnesses it should or should not use in connection with prosecution under its jurisdiction.

b6

Recommendation:

It is recommended that we advise the Attorney General that we will be glad to furnish information in our possession to INS concerning informants and witnesses being used by that Agency.

Item 1 (c)(vi) deals with instructions to Departmental professional employees concerning the responsibility of trial attorneys for the reliability of witnesses. No comment is being made since this is a Departmental matter.

Item 1 (d) deals with SACB cases in which Matusow testified. It is to be noted that in the Communist Party case and the Labor Youth League case Matusow's testimony was disregarded in toto and both cases were decided in favor of the Government. In the cases involving the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship and the Veterans of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade, Mr. Tompkins has advised the Attorney General that Matusow's testimony could be stricken without affecting the case. The Attorney General requests that Mr. Tompkins advise him concerning these two cases.

Item 2 deals with investigation of [redacted]
[redacted] We have previously advised the Attorney General that [redacted] was never used as an informant. A perjury investigation on [redacted] arising out of his allegation that he was prevailed upon by Government personnel to testify falsely at the Federal Communications Commission hearing on Edward Oliver Lamb, is being conducted and reports are being furnished to the Department as soon as they are received, reviewed and analyzed.

Recommendation:

We will continue to follow closely the [redacted] perjury investigation.

b6
b7C
b7D

Item 3 in the Attorney General's memorandum pertains to the case of [redacted] [redacted] testimony before the Federal Communications Commission in the Lamb hearing. The Attorney General's memorandum states that Mr. Olney should keep the Attorney General advised as to developments in the indictment of [redacted].

Recommendation:

Any matters of interest to the Bureau in connection with the [redacted] case will be followed closely and you will be kept advised.

Item 4 in the Attorney General's memorandum pertains to Matthew Cvetic and [redacted]. The Attorney General asks that the Bureau advise as to whether evidence from these two former informants was used in any employee security cases.

We have previously called the attention of the Department to derogatory information concerning these two individuals. Both Cvetic and [redacted] were informants who subsequent to their discontinuance have engaged in activities which have been questionable. Both have attempted to capitalize on their former informant status and both have made statements which were exaggerated and designed to capture the public's imagination. Information supplied by these two individuals while they were informants, however, has been cross checked and much of it verified. There has been no positive indication that either of these informants furnished information known to be unreliable while they were informants. On March 10, 1955, the Executive Conference took up the question of informants of this type and it was unanimously recommended that the Bureau not attempt to go back and re-evaluate the reliability of a former informant as to information furnished by him while he was an informant in the absence of a definite indication that the informant furnished unreliable information to the Bureau while he was an informant.

b7C
b7D

Information furnished by Cvetic and [redacted] has been widely disseminated and has been used in Security of Government Employees investigations.

By airtel dated March 26, 1955, and teletype dated March 29, 1955, Pittsburgh has advised that Cvetic was confined to the St. Francis Hospital, Pittsburgh, on two occasions in February and March, 1955, for a nervous condition. Pittsburgh has furnished information contained in a press release concerning Cvetic's hospitalization which release was apparently prepared by the Western Pennsylvania Committee for the Protection of Foreign Born. The press release states that petitions have been filed in two deportation cases in which Cvetic testified and further calls for the immediate reopening of all cases in which he has testified. This would include the Pittsburgh Smith Act trial as well as Subversive Activities Control Board cases concerning the Labor Youth League and the Civil Rights Congress. United States Attorney, Pittsburgh, requested the Bureau to check the hospital record regarding Cvetic and Pittsburgh is being instructed to check these records and advise the United States Attorney and the Bureau of the results. Information has also been received from Pittsburgh that Matthew Cvetic, on March 16, 1955, was arrested for drunken driving by the Brownsville, Pennsylvania, Police Department. Pittsburgh further advises that information has been received that the "Valley Journal," a newspaper published at Millvale, Pennsylvania, is in possession of "a file" concerning [redacted] which apparently contains information exposing [redacted] as a "perjurer." This file is to be used in the event [redacted] and [redacted] sue the newspaper over a derogatory editorial, the paper printed concerning [redacted] [redacted]

RECOMMENDATION

Concerning Matthew Cvetic, it is to be noted that he was discontinued in January, 1950, in view of his repeated demands for more pay and the difficulty in controlling his activities. Since 1950 we have received repeated indications that he has been drinking and we warned the Department that he should not be used in the Pittsburgh Smith Act trial. Concerning [redacted] it is to be noted that [redacted] was discontinued effective April 30, 1953, following his testimony in the Smith Act trial. We have had considerable trouble with [redacted] since that time and the Department has been kept fully advised. It is believed we should advise the Attorney General that both Cvetic and [redacted] have furnished information which has been used in employee security cases. The Attorney General should be further advised that information furnished by these two individuals while they were informants was cross-checked and much of it verified by other sources. The Attorney General should be further advised that there has been no positive indication that either Cvetic or [redacted] furnished unreliable information and that the difficulties we have encountered with them have primarily been confined to the period following their discontinuance as informants. The Attorney General should be advised of the additional information which has been received concerning the hospitalization of Matthew Cvetic and his arrest for drunken driving and other additional information received concerning [redacted] and the "file" being maintained concerning him by the "Valley Journal."

Item 6 applies to [] and [] both of whom have been used by the Department as witnesses in the past. The Attorney General states that Mr. Rogers should advise the Attorney General as to his opinion on [] and [] and particularly as to whether we (the Department) should now answer the inquiry as to them from the International Organizations Security Board.

b7D

This apparently applies to the testimony of these two individuals in the [] case. [] and [] in 1954 testified that [] was a member of the Communist Party in 1934 or 1935. This testimony was denied by Bunche and by [] at whose office [] was supposed to have attended a Communist Party meeting, according to [] and []. In July, 1954, the Department requested additional investigation by the FBI as to whether [] and [] may have perjured themselves. Additional investigation did not result in evidence which would resolve the question. The Department has received all reports in the [] case. No further action by the Bureau appears to be required at this time.

RECORDED

Reference is made to your memorandum of March 21, 1955.

Under Item 1 (a) you requested that if the FBI finds additional employee security cases in which evidence furnished by Matusow was used or similar cases other than employee cases, the FBI should notify the Internal Security Division. You also stated that the Internal Security Division is to advise the appropriate Government agency of each such case, recommending a review.

For your information, each Government agency which has received reports on employee security cases containing information furnished by Harvey Matusow has been advised of the identity of the particular document containing Matusow's information as well as the temporary informant symbol given Matusow in those instances where his identity was concealed. Several additional employee security cases in which Matusow furnished information have been located since my memorandum of March 2, 1955, and the Department and pertinent Government agencies have been advised appropriately. Should any other cases of this type be located similar action will be taken.

Regarding cases other than employee security cases, the Records Administration Branch of the Department and other Government agencies which have received reports containing information furnished by Matusow wherein his identity was concealed by a temporary informant symbol or where Matusow was characterized as to reliability have been notified of the location of Matusow's information in the reports and his present unreliability. Any other cases of a similar nature which are located in the future will be appropriately handled.

Under Item 1(c) (iii) you asked whether newspaper reports are accurate which state that Matusow testified before a Congressional committee that he could personally identify 10,000 Communists in New York City. You further asked whether this statement is reflected in Department files. The files of this Bureau indicate that such a statement was made by Matusow in testimony on March 13, 1952, before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security in hearings relating to the Institute of Pacific Relations. Matusow's statement appears in part 11 of the record of these hearings which was furnished to Assistant Attorney General Charles B. Murray by memorandum dated September 23, 1952, captioned "Institute of Pacific Relations, Espionage - R."

Under this same item you asked whether anything in Bishop Oznam's public statements should have alerted us. For your information, Bishop Oznam's statement to the effect that Matusow had stated that he had lied to Congressional committees was reportedly made at a conference of the Methodist Church during the early part of June, 1954. Information concerning this statement was furnished to Assistant Attorney General Warren Olney III by letter dated July 6, 1954, and copies of newspaper articles concerning this matter were furnished to Assistant Attorney General William F. Tompkins by letter dated July 20, 1954.

Under Item 1 (c) (v) you asked whether there should be closer liaison between the Immigration and Naturalization Service and the FBI as to information as to witnesses and informants. We will, of course, furnish information in our possession to the Immigration and Naturalization Service concerning informants and witnesses being used by that Agency.

Under Item 4, you requested the FBI to advise as to whether evidence from Matthew Guetic or [redacted] was used in any employee security cases. Both of these individuals furnished information to the FBI as informants for a number of years. Information furnished by them while they were in informant capacities was cross-checked and much of it was verified by other sources. There has been no positive indication that either Cvetic or [] furnished unreliable information. Much of this information has been disseminated and has been used in employee security cases. It is pointed out that the difficulties which we have experienced with both Cvetic and Lasset have primarily been confined to the period following their discontinuance as informants and each of them has attempted to capitalize on his past informant work for the FBI. Both Cvetic and [] have made public statements which are exaggerated and designed to capture the public interest. Cvetic has moreover been accused of intoxication on a number of occasions and [] has made false statements about his relationships with the FBI in the past. Your attention is directed to my letter of March 9, 1955, captioned as above, which furnishes additional details concerning these two individuals.

On March 16, 1955, James Eddie, Chief of the Brownsville, Pennsylvania, Police Department, telephonically advised this Bureau that Cvetic had been arrested by that Department for drunken driving. According to Chief Eddie, Cvetic had driven his automobile into a ditch. Chief Eddie requested advice as to what action he should take with regard to Cvetic and was advised that that individual had no present connection with the FBI and that this Bureau would not intercede for him in any way.

On March 25, 1955, a reliable confidential informant of our Pittsburgh Office advised that during a March 24, 1955, meeting sponsored by the Pittsburgh Civil Rights Congress which dealt primarily with informants, a report which appeared to be a medical analysis concerning Cvetic was read. According to the informant, the report dealt with Cvetic's recent psychiatric treatment at St. Francis Hospital, Pittsburgh, and [] of the Western Pennsylvania Committee for Protection of Foreign Born, pointed out that her organization and the Civil Rights Congress would immediately begin preparation of a petition for submission to the United States District Court, Pittsburgh, and to the Immigration and Naturalization Service, pointing out that Cvetic's testimony at the Immigration and Naturalization Service Hearings and at the Pittsburgh Smith Act trial was valueless since Cuetic was suffering from a nervous disorder.

On March 29, 1955, United States Attorney John V. Hollvaine, Western District of Pennsylvania, advised our Pittsburgh Office that he is in possession of a copy of a press release, apparently prepared by the Western Pennsylvania Committee for Protection of Foreign Born. Portions of this release, which had not been printed as of March 29, 1955, read as follows:

"The Western Pennsylvania Committee for Protection of the Foreign Born announced today that petitions have been filed in two deportation cases introducing new evidence relating to the mental illness of Matthew Cuetic, main witness in both proceedings. Attached to each petition is a summary of the hospital record, which shows that Cuetic was admitted to St. Francis Hospital, Psychiatric Division, on February 17, 1955, was discharged March 5, 1955, and re-admitted on March 19. ... Dr. W. J. Kelly, who examined Cuetic on his first admission, found 'patient is restless, agitated, has a suspicious attitude, seems afraid, admits drinking heavily of late, is admitted as a chronic alcoholic.' According to the history obtained by the admitting physician, the patient was always rather a depressive person. His son never could understand him, he never discussed his problems with him, and he is at a loss to know what his trouble is at present, other than being lonely. He lives in a hotel room alone and has been writing a book. He has been very despondent and unsettled since he resumed drinking. He paced back and forth in his hotel room, he ate and slept very little since Sunday. Patient used liquor very heavily for a period of five years, but quit altogether two and one half years ago and has been with alcoholics anonymous. Patient has been doctoring for a nervous condition. He started drinking this past Sunday and Monday, February 13 and 14. Since he was so despondent, his son called the hotel doctor who gave him some medicine and recommended hospitalization. ... Cuetic medical record corroborates the charge of all the victims of this informer that his testimony is unreliable, that his motives are questionable, and that his use by the Department of Justice and other Government agencies calls for an investigation. In view of the psychopathic record of Cuetic, the Western Pennsylvania Committee for Protection of the Foreign Born calls for the immediate reopening of all cases in which Cuetic has testified."

United States Attorney McIlvaine stated that he was greatly concerned over this development, since Cuetic is the principal witness in pending Immigration and Naturalization Service cases, the first of which, concerning Joseph Louis Mankin, is scheduled for the April 11, 1955, term of court. Mr. McIlvaine requested that the medical records at St. Francis Hospital be checked in order to verify whether Cuetic's physical condition is as described in the press release. Our Pittsburgh Office has been instructed to make this check and furnish the results to United States Attorney McIlvaine and to the Bureau, for transmittal to the Department.

With further reference to the Civil Rights Congress meeting on March 24, 1955, our informant advised that Allan McNeil, Secretary of "The Committee To End Sedition Laws" stated that the "Valley Journal," a newspaper published at Hillvale, Pennsylvania, is in possession of a file concerning [redacted] and should [redacted] and [redacted] bring suit regarding an editorial concerning [redacted] published [redacted] the newspaper will make use of this file to expose [redacted] as a perjurer. McNeil further stated that in the event the "Volley Journal" does not make use of this information, there are two large newspapers in Pittsburgh which also want to expose [redacted]. The informant advised that the names of the newspapers were not mentioned and that he is unable to state how much truth exists in McNeil's statement.

Attached is a nine page detailed memorandum analyzing the Attorney General's memorandum of March 21, 1955. The Attorney General's memorandum is addressed to Deputy Attorney General Rogers, the Director, Assistant Attorneys General Tompkins, Olney and Rankin and Commissioner Swing of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. The memorandum deals with a number of different problems throughout the Department connected with Harvey Matusow, [redacted] and [redacted] relating to the FBI are dealt with in this summary memorandum. The portions directly

Item 1 (a) deals with employee security cases in which Matusow furnished information. The Attorney General states that if the FBI finds additional such employee security cases or similar cases other than employee cases, it will notify Internal Security Division.

By memorandum dated March 2, 1955, the Attorney General was furnished a list of employee security cases found to contain information from Matusow. Copies of the list were also furnished to Messrs. Rogers and Tompkins and to the Records Administration Branch of the Department. In addition, each Government agency concerned was advised of the identity of the particular document containing Matusow's information and was advised of the temporary informant symbol given Matusow in those instances where his identity was concealed. Several additional cases have since been located and the Department and pertinent Government agencies have been advised. Should other cases containing information from Matusow be located, appropriate notification will be given the Department and any other Government agency concerned.

Likewise, in security and other similar cases, in each case wherein it has been determined that Matusow furnished information and was concealed by a T symbol or characterized as to reliability, we have advised the Records Administration Branch and other agencies to whom the reports were disseminated.

Item 1 (c) (iii) deals with a memorandum from INS dated February 24, 1955, wherein INS states that Matusow was not used as a witness after April 8, 1954, "on receipt of information that the subject had written letters to his wife in which he stated that he had committed perjury in testifying regarding Communism." The Attorney General asks if the FBI and Internal Security were notified of this at the time. We have not located any indication that INS did call our attention to this information at the time; however, it is felt that this is a matter for INS to answer rather than the FBI.

Item 1 (c) (iii) asks whether newspaper reports are accurate which state that Matusow testified before a Congressional Committee that he could personally identify 10,000 Communists in New York City. Our files reflect that Matusow on March 13, 1952, testified before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security, Washington, D.C., in a hearing concerning the Institute of Pacific Relations. Matusow said that while a Communist Party member he had worked in three Communist Party bookshops. He described the nature of these bookshops and when questioned concerning people coming in to buy books he stated "Yes, in my position in the bookshop I knew by sight probably 10,000 Party members in New York. I had seen them at various mass meetings or they knew me to be a Communist." A copy of this public hearing was furnished to Assistant Attorney General Charles B. Murray by memorandum dated September 23, 1952, captioned "Institute of Pacific Relations, Espionage - R." Our memorandum pointed out that this testimony contained testimony of Harvey M. Matusow.

This item also asks "Was there anything in Bishop Oxnam's public statements that should have alerted us?" Information concerning Bishop Oxnam's statement that Matusow had admitted that he had lied was furnished to the Department by memoranda dated July 6 and 20, 1954.

Item 1 (c) (v) states "Should there be closer liaison between INS and the FBI as to information as to witnesses and informants?" Under date of May 13, 1954, a letter was transmitted to the Attorney General concerning informants and witnesses used by INS. Attached was a 74-page memorandum furnishing brief sketches on each informant or witness being used by INS. It was pointed out that although many of the individuals used by INS appeared to be completely reliable, others such as Matthew Cvetic, [redacted] and Harvey Matusow have demonstrated their untrustworthiness and unreliability. It was stated in this memorandum that it was strongly felt that the FBI should not be called upon to vouch for the reliability of those individuals who are not under our control nor attempt to advise INS which informants or witnesses it should or should not use in connection with prosecution under its jurisdiction.

Item 4 in the Attorney General's memorandum pertains to Matthew Cvetic and [redacted] The Attorney General asks that the Bureau advise as to whether evidence from these two former informants was used in any employee security cases.

We have previously called the attention of the Department to derogatory information concerning these two individuals. Both Cvetic and [] were informants who subsequent to their discontinuance have engaged in activities which have been questionable. Both have attempted to capitalize on their former informant status and both have made statements which were exaggerated and designed to capture the public's imagination. Information supplied by these two individuals while they were informants, however, has been cross checked and much of it verified. There has not been any positive indication that either of these informants furnished information known to be unreliable while they were informants. On March 10, 1955, the Executives Conference took up the question of informants of this type and it was unanimously recommended that the Bureau not attempt to go back and re-evaluate the reliability of a former informant as to information furnished by him while he was an informant in the absence of a definite indication that the informant furnished unreliable information to the Bureau while he was an informant. Information furnished by Cvetic and [] has been widely disseminated and has been used in Security of Government Employees investigations.

By airtel dated March 26, 1955, and teletype dated March 29, 1955, Pittsburgh has advised that Cvetic was confined to the St. Francis Hospital, Pittsburgh, on two occasions in February and March, 1955, for a nervous condition. Pittsburgh has furnished information contained in a press release concerning Cvetic's hospitalization which release was apparently prepared by the Western Pennsylvania Committee for the Protection of Foreign Born. The press release states that petitions have been filed in two deportation cases in which Cvetic testified and further calls for the immediate reopening of all cases in which he has testified. This would include the Pittsburgh Smith Act trial as well as Subversive Activities Control Board cases concerning the Labor Youth League and the Civil Rights Congress. United States Attorney, Pittsburgh, requested the Bureau to check the hospital record regarding Cvetic and Pittsburgh is being instructed to check these records and advise the United States Attorney and the Bureau of the results. Information has also been received from Pittsburgh that Matthew Cvetic, on March 16, 1955, was arrested for drunken driving by the Brownsville, Pennsylvania, Police Department. Pittsburgh further advises that information has been received that the "Valley Journal," a newspaper published at Millvale, Pennsylvania, is in possession of "a file" concerning [] which apparently contains information expositing [] as a "perjurer." This file is to be used in the event [] sue the newspaper over a derogatory editorial, the paper printed concerning []

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) It is recommended that we advise the Attorney General that the FBI has already advised interested Government agencies in cases wherein Matusow has furnished information and has been concealed by a temporary symbol or characterized as to reliability.

OK.

(2) It is recommended that we point out to the Attorney General that Matusow's statement concerning 10,000 Communists was furnished to the Department and that information concerning Bishop Oxnham's statement was also furnished to the Department.

(3) It is recommended that we advise the Attorney General that we will be glad to furnish information in our possession to INS concerning informants and witnesses being used by that Agency.

(4) Concerning Matthew Cvetic, it is to be noted that he was discontinued in January, 1950, in view of his repeated demands for more pay and the difficulty in controlling his activities. Since 1950 we have received repeated indications that he has been drinking and we warned the Department that he should not be used in the Pittsburgh Smith Act trial. Concerning [redacted] it is to be noted that [redacted] was discontinued effective [redacted] following his testimony in the Smith Act trial. We have had considerable trouble with [redacted] since that time and the Department has been kept fully advised. It is believed we should advise the Attorney General that both Cvetic and [redacted] have furnished information which has been used in employee security cases. The Attorney General should be further advised that information furnished by these two individuals while they were informants was cross-checked and much of it verified by other sources. The Attorney General should be further advised that there has been no positive indication that either Cvetic or [redacted] furnished unreliable information and that the difficulties we have encountered with them have primarily been confined to the period following their discontinuance as informants. The Attorney General should be advised of the additional information which has been received concerning the hospitalization of Matthew Cvetic and his arrest for drunken driving and other additional information received concerning [redacted] and the "file" being maintained concerning him by the "Valley Journal."

103-20 J. H. MURR TO DIRECTOR

On pages A1393-A1396, Congressman Walter, (D) Pennsylvania, extended his remarks to include a CBS Radio broadcast of February 27, 1955. Participants were Hon. Francis E. Walter, chairman, House Un-American Activities Committee, Hon. William F. Tompkins, Assistant Attorney General in charge of Internal Security Division, Department of Justice, moderator, Dwight Cooke, and producer, Nancy Neuschman. The question was "How effective are former Communists as witnesses?" In pointing out what the House Committee on Un-American Activities does in order to attempt to establish the credibility and honesty of the witness Congressman Walter stated, among other things, "Well, we obtain a report from the FBI, and its judgment as to whether or not a witness is responsible and trustworthy, reliable, and honest."

Will you please arrange to attend a conference in my office on the above matter on Tuesday, April 5, at two P.M.

In addition to the matters set forth in my memorandum on the above subject dated March 21, 1955 I would like to consider the following:

1. In addition to (or in substitution for) the proposed report of Messrs. Tompkins and Lombard on Matusow, would it be advisable to ask for a grand jury presentment in the Southern District of New York.

2. Discussion of witnesses and proposed witnesses before the SACB, as set forth in a memorandum from Mr. Tompkins to me, dated March 11, 1955, re "Witnesses Before The Subversive Activities Control Board". Mr. Rogers has commented on this memorandum in a separate memorandum to me dated March 28, 1955.

It will be entirely satisfactory to bring with you to the conference any of your assistants involved in the problems which we will discuss at the meeting.

Reference is made to your memorandum of March 31, 1955 in which you advise that each Government agency which has received reports on employee security cases containing information furnished by Harvey Matusow has been advised of the identity of the particular document containing Matusow's information as well as the temporary informant symbol given Matusow in those instances where his identity was concealed.

You also advised that several additional employee security cases in which Matusow furnished information have been located since your memorandum of March 2, 1955 and that the Department and pertinent Government agencies have been advised appropriately.

To efficiently carry out the responsibilities assigned to this Division by the Attorney General, it is desired that you identify the additional employee security cases which you state have been furnished to the Department and other agencies, that you list the specific reports in which Matusow furnished information as Matusow or under a temporary informant symbol number, and that you advise us of the names of the departments and agencies receiving copies of these reports.

It would be appreciated if this request were handled expeditiously.

Re Director's memorandum dated April 5, 1955, advising that a list of Employee Security Cases containing information from Matthew Cvetic, [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] should be furnished Assistant Attorney General Tompkins. Reference is also made to memorandum from Stanley to Mr. Rosen, April 6, 1955, noting that the list of such cases would be submitted to Mr. Tompkins upon receipt of information from Pittsburgh Office. (These three former informants were active in the Pittsburgh Division. In this connection, it is noted that the Executive Conference memorandum dated March 10, 1955, re "Confidential Informants" (66-6200-134-107) notes that there has been no question of Cvetic's reliability while a Bureau informant; it notes also that [REDACTED] was reliable as an informant).

Attached herewith is a memorandum to Assistant Attorney General Tompkins enclosing a list of fifty-nine cases in which investigation was conducted under Executive Order 9835, Loyalty of Government Employees (LGE) and Executive Order 10450, Security of Government Employees (SGE). In those cases in which the file reflects a disposition by the Security Board or agency, the same is noted in the list.

The attached list is based upon a review of all SGE and LGE cases in the Pittsburgh Office as noted in letters from that Office dated April 6, and April 9, 1955, and upon a check of Bureau indices against the names and informant symbols of Cvetic and the [REDACTED]

It is noted that in some instances, applicant-type reports may be considered under Executive Orders 9835 and 10450, when such reports contain disloyal data. The Pittsburgh Office has advised, however, that to identify any applicant-type reports (that is Special Inquiry, Departmental Applicant, Atomic Energy Act, etc.) containing information from Cvetic and [redacted] would involve a review of over 42,000 files in that Office. In view of this, and since Mr. Tompkins has requested only Employee Security Cases, a review of the 42,000 applicant files in the Pittsburgh Office is not believed warranted in this matter.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) If you approve, Pittsburgh Office will not be instructed to review its applicant-type files for cases containing information from Cvetic and [redacted]

Re Director's memorandum dated April 5, 1955, concerning conference in Attorney General's Office on same date concerning "ex-Communists as witnesses." The memorandum notes following items of interest to the Investigative Division (Domestic Intelligence Division handling other phases of Director's memorandum):

(1) Director noted that Assistant Attorney General Tompkins understood that there are some Employee Security Cases containing information emanating from Harvey Matusow, in addition to the 31 cases of which Department was advised by memorandum March 2, 1955. The Director stated he would like to know when we are forwarding this second batch of cases to Mr. Tompkins, and that he would like to have it done at the earliest possible moment.

COMMENT: Subsequent to March 2, 1955, when we advised the Department of the 31 cases containing information from Matusow, 4 additional cases were located. The appropriate agencies and the Department were advised of these cases as they were located. In this connection, attached are ticklers of a memorandum from Mr. Boardman to the Director dated April 5, 1955 and of a memorandum to Mr. Tompkins (same date). In the latter Mr. Tompkins was advised of the specific memoranda by which he had previously been advised of the 4 additional cases. This appears to be the matter to which Tompkins referred.

ACTION: In the event additional cases of this type are located, the Department and the appropriate Government agency will be advised.

(2) With reference to the number of Employee Security Cases in which [redacted] and Matthew Cvetic had been used, and also that the Bureau would promptly furnish Mr. Tompkins the list of these cases together with any pertinent information, the following is noted:

The Domestic Intelligence Division on April 5, 1955, obtained the approximated figures concerning Cvetic's use from the Pittsburgh Office telephonically. The approximated figures with respect to the use of [redacted] were obtained from [redacted] file at the Bureau.

The Pittsburgh Office was also instructed on April 5, 1955, to immediately furnish the Bureau the complete list of such cases in which Cvetic had been used.

ACTION: Upon receipt of the list of the Cvetic cases from Pittsburgh Bureau files will immediately be reviewed and Mr. Tompkins will then be furnished the list of the Cvetic and [redacted] cases.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

April 19, 1955

Director, FBI 100-48105

EX-COMMUNISTS AS WITNESSES

DECLASSIFIED BY 60267 NIS/EP/DD
ON 10-13-99

Reference is made to my memorandum of April 12, 1955, which furnished to you information concerning Matthew Cvetic, a former confidential informant of this Bureau who has been used as a witness in trials and hearings arising out of alleged subversive activity.

For your information, the Pittsburgh "Sun Telegraph" issue of April 6, 1955, in a column entitled "On The Town" reported that Cvetic was at that time in Mercy Hospital as a result of a broken right shoulder suffered in a fall in the William Penn Hotel. The column went on to report that Cvetic's shoulder was in a cast and that Cvetic expects to be out of the hospital in a week or so.

For your additional information, a personal acquaintance of Pittsburgh Attorney Hymen Schlesinger has advised an Agent of this Bureau that he was asked by Schlesinger and Steve Nelson, a convicted Smith Act subject who is presently out on bond pending appeal, to conduct a physical surveillance of Cvetic beginning at the time Cvetic is released from Mercy Hospital. Schlesinger, who acted as a defense attorney in the Pittsburgh Smith Act trial, requested this acquaintance to record all of Cvetic's movements and contacts.

The above is being furnished to you for your information. Any further data concerning this surveillance of Matthew Cvetic will be promptly furnished to you.

SUBJECT: REVIEW OF TESTIMONY OF WARREN OLNEY III
AND WILLIAM F. TOMPKINS, DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS, BEFORE COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS - 1956

by Government as witnesses

This memorandum is based on the Director's instructions that a prompt review be made of the testimony of Warren Olney and William F. Tompkins, Department officials, before the House Appropriations Committee to be sure that no inaccurate statements were made regarding the FBI. The testimony of Olney and Tompkins contained in the report of hearings before the Subcommittee of the House Committee on Appropriations as it relates to the Domestic Intelligence Division has been reviewed and there do not appear to be any inaccurate statements with reference to matters handled by this Division.

Pages 101 and 102 of the report reflect the testimony concerning the Department's decision not to prosecute [redacted] for perjury and the reasons therefor. [redacted] in 1953 testified for the so-called Jenner Committee concerning alleged espionage in a General Motors Corporation plant at Cleveland, Ohio, in 1943 to 1945. Thereafter, when he was interviewed by the FBI, he admitted that his testimony before the committee was fabricated in certain respects. A review of this testimony reflects no inaccuracy so far as our work is concerned and deals entirely with the Department's reasons for not prosecuting him.

In the preliminary remarks of Tompkins before the Committee reflected on pages 281 and 282 of the report, he discusses the work of the newly created Internal Security Division of the Department and points out that it carries on in matters relating to subversive activities and the internal security where the investigative activities of the FBI cease. It is stated that the work load of that division is, therefore, in proportion to the activity of the FBI in the internal security field. On pages 283 - 291 of the report there is reflected Tompkins' testimony and questioning by the Committee regarding Smith Act indictments and prosecutions. No inaccuracies regarding us or our work are contained therein.

Tompkins is questioned on pages 291 and 292 concerning the Department's plan for further action in the Judy Coplon case and Tompkins advises it is still under study by the Department.

On page 293 of the report, Tompkins discusses the policy of the Department in the selection of witnesses in Smith Act prosecutions and makes the statement that these witnesses are selected by the Department through a thorough digest of many, many FBI reports that come in. The witnesses are thereafter interviewed and material in the reports must be collated with their recollection and if there is any doubt concerning the reliability of the witness he is not used. Tompkins, on page 309 of the report, goes on to say that you have to use the best witnesses available and if the Department is going to be required to produce witnesses of absolutely impeccable and unassailable character it is going to have a terrific impact on our prosecutions.

Testimony of the Departmental officials concerning Harvey Matusow appears on pages 13, 59, 253, 293 and 307 of the report. There does not appear to be any inaccurate statements made concerning the FBI. Briefly, Department officials, including the Attorney General, Olney, Tompkins and General Swing, of the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS), furnished information to the Committee concerning cases in which Matusow testified, how much Matusow was paid by the Department, efforts of INS to develop Matusow as an informant, the psychoneurotic background of Matusow as it applied to his use as a witness and the effects the Matusow case has had on testimony of other individuals. On pages 293 and 294 for instance, Tompkins is asked if he had occasion to go into Matusow's neurological record last June when they were considering using him as a witness in the Jencks case in Texas and Tompkins testified that he did not think the Department had this record at that time. He testified that since the Matusow controversy started a copy of the letter which was sent by the New York Office of the Bureau to former United States Attorney Myles Lane in January, 1952, had been found in the files of the United States Attorney's office in New York. This letter included information concerning the fact that Matusow had been diagnosed as suffering from a mild but acute form of psychoneurosis. Tompkins

|| was asked when he received the copy of it from the Bureau and he stated he received it under date of February 23, 1955. Tompkins goes on to say that although Matusow had been diagnosed as having a psychoneurosis of a mild but acute form Tompkins still would have used Matusow as a witness in spite of this background.

On page 295 it is reflected that Tompkins stated approximately 200 potential treason cases arising out of the activities of prisoners of war in the Korean conflict have been referred to the Department of Justice. This was substantially correct as of the date his testimony was given.

Reference is made to my memorandum dated April 1, 1955, relative to the Attorney General's request as set forth in his memorandum dated March 30, 1955, that you arrange to attend a conference in his office at 2:00 p.m., on Tuesday, April 5, 1955, regarding the captioned matter. A brief for your utilization in connection with this conference was attached to my memorandum of April 1, 1955.

For your further information, it has now been learned from Departmental Attorney Troy B. Connor in a discussion relative to other matters that among other things, the above-mentioned conference would possibly include a discussion of five individuals who have been utilized as witnesses before the Subversive Activities Control Board.

Summaries on these five individuals have been included in the attachment to the above-mentioned brief as set forth on the pages indicated. While a decision as to whether or not these individuals should be utilized again as Government witnesses is one which the Department must ultimately decide, there are set forth below the following observations concerning these witnesses for your possible utilization at your conference with the Attorney General today:

(1) [redacted] (page 34) - [redacted] was a paid informant of the Bureau for our Cleveland Office from February, 1944, to May, 1949. He appeared as a Government witness in the first and second Smith Act trials in New York, the recent Smith Act trial of Claude Lightfoot in Chicago and before the Subversive Activities Control Board in hearings regarding the Communist Party, USA. He is also a contemplated witness in the forthcoming Cleveland Smith Act trial. It is noted that during the Lamb case before the Federal Communications Commission, during which [redacted] served in an advisory capacity for the Commission, [redacted] accused [redacted] of being one of those individuals responsible for [redacted] false testimony.

In view of the above allegation against Cummings it is believed that his further utilization as a witness would be detrimental to the Government's interest. 100-418105-1

(2) [] (page 39). [] has never been an informant for the Bureau although he has voluntarily furnished considerable information concerning Communist activities [] since his expulsion from the Communist Party in []. He testified before the Subversive Activities Control Board in the National Council of American - Soviet Friendship case on May 23, 1954, during which testimony he identified [] as a "secret" Communist in the past. As a result of this testimony [] instituted a $150,000 libel action against []. This matter has not as yet been adjudicated.

In view of the pending libel action against [] based upon his testimony, it would appear that he should not be used again as a witness for the Government until this action has been completed upon which a determination could be made as to whether or not he should be used as a Government witness in the future.

b7C

(3) [] (page 61). [] was a paid informant for the Bureau from [] to []. She was utilized as a Government witness in the Jefferson School of Social Science case before the Subversive Activities Control Board. She was also being considered as a Government witness in the recent perjury case regarding Louis Weinstock. She proved to be a very temperamental person during her preparation for testimony in this latter case and the Departmental Attorneys who have interviewed her have concluded that she has become unstable and a neurotic individual whose testimony would have to be limited to facts susceptible to complete corroboration.

In view of the present unstable attitude of [] it is not believed that she should be used any further as a Government witness.

(4) [] (page 62) [] has never been a confidential informant for the Bureau. He has been interviewed on various occasions, however, regarding Communist matters after he voluntarily offered assistance to our Chicago Office in October, 1948. He appeared as a

b7D

Government witness before the Subversive Activities Control Board on May 20 and 21, 1954, in the proceeding against the National Council of American - Soviet Friendship. In September, 1954, [] made false allegations against Agents of our Chicago Office to a representative of a private security check agency in Chicago, as a result of which our Chicago Office was instructed to have no further contacts with []. The Department was also advised that due to the obvious insincerity and unreliability of [] no further contacts with him are being had by Bureau representatives.

b7D

In view of [] obvious insincerity and unreliability, it is not believed that he should again be used as a witness for the Government.

(5) [] (page 80). [] has never been a Bureau informant although he has voluntarily furnished information to our New York Office on several occasions since November 3, 1950. He was utilized as a Government witness before the Subversive Activities Control Board regarding the Jefferson School of Social Science case. He also testified before the same board in the hearing relative to the Veterans of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade. Although our files contain no information relative to the emotional stability of this individual, it is noted that Departmental Attorneys who have interviewed him have stated that since the afore-mentioned testimony [] had become associated with a New York State legislative committee investigating a phase of Communist activities and now appears unstable and fails to distinguish between information he personally obtained as a Party member and that which has come to his attention through his association with this committee.

b6
b7C
b7D

In view of the above analysis of this informant by the Department, it is believed that [] should not be used again as a Government witness.

This will confirm that at our meeting on February 21, 1955 on the above subject a three-man committee was established, made up of Mr. Noto, Mr. Irons and Mr. McLain, to coordinate the work of the Criminal Division, the Internal Security Division, the INS and the FBI as to (a) scheduling of witnesses in Communist proceedings; (b) reviewing their reliability prior to each use of them, and (c) advising as to any proper assistance which may be rendered to ex-Communist witnesses to protect them against retaliatory action taken against them from Communist sources to deprive them of their livelihood or peace of mind.

Mr. Rogers is to supervise the work of this committee, and the committee is to report to him from time to time on its work. Mr. Rogers will appoint a Chairman of the committee if that is required in order to facilitate the work of the committee.

EX-COMMUNISTS AS WITNESSES

Reference is made to your memorandum dated April 11, 1955, attaching a memorandum to you dated April 7, 1955, from Assistant Attorney General Tompkins. You requested that point 3 in Mr. Tompkins' memorandum, "Recommendations Concerning Procedure Followed By Attorneys in Preparing Smith Act and Other Internal Security Cases for Trial," be reviewed. You further requested that you be advised with respect to Mr. Tompkins' recommendation that a conference be held to discuss the advisability of a new procedure in connection with informant-witnesses not being allowed to review their written reports prior to testifying.

It is realized that by allowing informant-witnesses to review their reports before they take the witness stand, the Government is taking a calculated risk that a trial judge may rule that past recollection refreshed is a sufficient basis for a defense demand that the reports be produced, even though the refreshing of recollection took place outside of the courtroom. Mr. Tompkins has made the point, however, that this review of reports by informant-witnesses will substantially decrease honest inconsistencies in their testimony which appears highly desirable, particularly at this time, when the entire informant program is under heavy attack.

As the Department is aware, some written reports of Bureau informants contain information of a general intelligence nature which is not at all relevant to the issue concerning which the informant is testifying. Some of these reports mention individuals who are not Communists and also mention the names of other confidential informants who are not known as such to the reporting informant and who are not publicly known as Communists. Should the names of individuals who are not Communists be made public, the Government may well be placed in an embarrassing situation and should the names of confidential informants be made public, they may well be lost to the Bureau as informants.

The Bureau is, therefore, still of the opinion that Government attorneys should continue to vigorously oppose all defense requests for the production of written reports of Bureau informants and should insist that any such reports be first reviewed in chambers by the trial judge and turned over to the defense only if the trial judge so orders. The Bureau will continue to review the reports of any informant-witnesses which have been demanded by the defense to determine whether there is any sound objection to their ultimate production and will point out to the Department any portions of the reports which should be excised before the reports are turned over to the defense.

Taking the above factors into consideration, the Bureau will leave to the discretion of the Department the desirability of allowing informant-witnesses to review their written reports to the Bureau before they take the witness stand in Smith Act or other Internal Security cases. We would appreciate being advised if the Department intends to follow this procedure in future Smith Act and other Internal Security prosecutions.

SYNOPSIS:

A memorandum from the Attorney General to the Director dated April 11, 1955, requested that a review be made of Section 3 of a memorandum to the Attorney General from Assistant Attorney General Tompkins dated April 7, 1955, captioned "Recommendations Concerning Procedure Followed by Attorneys in Preparing Smith Act and other Internal Security Cases for Trial." The Attorney General requested that he be advised with respect to the recommendation made in this section by Mr. Tompkins.

In the above section, Mr. Tompkins points out that former and current Bureau informants who are being considered as witnesses in Smith Act and other Internal Security trials are not allowed to review their written reports to the Bureau before testifying. He notes that this procedure is followed to insure, in so far as practicable, that there will be no basis for defense counsel demanding the production of these reports. Mr. Tompkins points out that most informant-witnesses have submitted literally hundreds of reports to the Bureau and he mentions the extreme difficulty of informant-witnesses recalling details connected with the great number of conventions, meetings, and schools which they have attended and reported on. Mr. Tompkins states that the current policy substantially increases the likelihood of honest error and confusing of details during testimony and that such instances have been seized upon and magnified by critics of the informant system.

Mr. Tompkins points out further that while the Government has always been successful in opposing the production of informant reports where the defense has made a sweeping demand for the production of all reports, the defense always has the advantage of arguing to the jury that the Government is covering up. Mr. Tompkins admits, however, that such arguments have apparently not been detrimental except possibly in the Seattle Smith Act trial in which defendant Karly Larsen was acquitted by the jury. (Larsen is the only Smith Act defendant out of 82 tried to date who has been acquitted by the jury.)

Mr. Tompkins relates that while in many Smith Act prosecutions to date the court has required the Government to produce one or two informant reports, the production has always been made over objection by Government attorneys. It is Mr. Tompkins' feeling that the refusal of the Government to produce a report concerning a meeting about which an informant has already testified in detail seems to be a questionable policy, especially at this time, in view of the apparently growing criticism of informant testimony.

Mr. Tompkins draws the following conclusions:

1. An informant's recollection can more accurately and completely be refreshed if he is permitted to review the reports submitted by him to the Bureau;
2. Through this refreshing of recollections, there is little likelihood that inaccuracies will appear in their testimony;
3. A precedent for the production of Bureau reports has already been established in several cases under certain circumstances.

Mr. Tompkins then suggests to the Attorney General that consideration be given to taking up with the Bureau the question of adopting new procedure with reference to informant reports. Mr. Tompkins lists the following advantages:

1. The unusual burdens and responsibilities presently placed on trial attorneys in Internal Security cases would be considerably eased, and properly so, if the attorneys could make available to a prospective witness the informant reports he had submitted to the Bureau;
2. In many instances extremely valuable evidence has been lost because of the inability of the informant-witness to recall the details of a meeting or educational discussion. If informant-witness had been permitted to review his report concerning this meeting or school, this valuable evidence would not have been lost.

BUREAU'S POSITION:

At the very outset of Smith Act trials we discussed with the Department the probability that defense counsel would make every effort to get Bureau records into evidence, and we pointed out the following objections to informant reports becoming part of the trial record:

1. Some informant reports contain hearsay material which is not legally admissible and which is reported solely for intelligence purposes;
2. Some informant reports contain the names of other informants not known as such to the reporting informant and not openly known as Communists. If the names of these informants become publicly known and they are identified as Communists, they could possibly be lost to us as informants;
3. Some informant reports contain the names of individuals who are not Communists and whose names should not become publicly known as a result of their being mentioned in the report of an informant of the FBI. This could be a cause of embarrassment to the Bureau;
4. Every time the defense succeeds in forcing the Government to produce an informant report, it represents an additional precedent which makes the next defense demand easier.

Based upon the above reasoning, the Department adopted the procedure of not allowing informant-witnesses to review their reports before testifying, since although there appears to be a well-established principle of evidence that past recollection refreshed outside of the courtroom is not, in itself, a sufficient basis for a defense demand for the production of the reports, there are cases which apparently leaves a wide discretion to the trial judge as to whether this principle must be followed. Accordingly, the Department agreed that it was more desirable for the informant to be in a position to testify that he had not seen his reports prior to testifying.

OBSERVATIONS:

Mr. Tompkins' comments are, generally speaking, true. It would be much easier for the Government attorneys to properly prepare an informant for testimony if the informant had been given the opportunity of reviewing his reports and this procedure would substantially decrease the likelihood of honest error and confusion of details by the informant during his testimony. There is, of course, the danger, as pointed out above, that allowing the informant-witnesses to refresh their recollections by reviewing their reports prior to testifying would be an additional factor for the trial judge to consider should the defense demand the informant reports.

In this connection, the Bureau, by memorandum to former Assistant Attorney General James M. McInerney dated June 5, 1952, raised certain hypothetical questions concerning the production of informant reports. This inquiry was prompted by a ruling of United States District Judge Mathes in the Los Angeles Smith Act trial wherein Mathes ordered the production of three informant reports. Mathes' ruling was based upon the fact that the Government, by placing the informant on the witness stand and having him testify in open court to certain facts which he had reported to the FBI in writing, had waived the privilege of now claiming that the reports of the informant are confidential. In his ruling, Judge Mathes specifically stated that past recollections refreshed by reviewing the reports outside of the courtroom was not, in itself, a sufficient basis for a defense demand for the production of the reports. This latter point arose as a result of the informant mistakenly stating that he had seen his reports prior to taking the witness stand. Actually, the informant had seen the witness brief drawn up by the United States Attorney and had not seen his informant reports.

One of the hypothetical questions raised by the Bureau in its memorandum to the Department dated June 5, 1952, was "Would the ruling of Judge Mathes as to the waiver by the Government of its privilege of claiming that the informant reports are confidential be influenced had the witness actually refreshed his recollection from a review of his reports outside the courtroom." The Department's reply was to the effect that if the informant used his written reports for the purpose of refreshing his recollection prior to testifying, the court might, in its discretion, permit inspection of the documents by the defendants under an opinion rendered by the United States Supreme Court on that point in the case entitled "Goldman v. U. S., 316 U. S. 129." The Department pointed out, however, that it was felt that the court should not exercise such discretionary authority favorable to the defense unless it appears from the court's inspection of the documents that they contain impeaching, exculpatory, or contradictory material. The Department concluded that based upon a review of all pertinent judicial decisions, it was the opinion of the Department that if informant reports are not used to refresh the recollection of the witnesses, either on the stand or prior to trial, and if the documents contain no impeaching, exculpatory, or contradictory material, and are not otherwise relevant, the defendants are not entitled to any inspection thereof.

It appears, therefore, that by allowing the informant-witnesses to review their reports before testifying, the Government would be taking a calculated risk that the trial judge might consider this fact sufficient basis for the defense to demand production of the reports. On the other hand, however, the ruling of Judge Mathes in the Los Angeles trial that the Government, by having the witness testify to facts in his written reports, waives the privilege of claiming these reports are confidential, could also be followed by other trial judges and the fact that the informant-witness either did or did not review his reports prior to testifying has no bearing on this doctrine. To date, the only trial judge other than Judge Mathes who has mentioned the waiver of privilege by the Government was Judge Rabe F. Marsh who presided at the Pittsburgh Smith Act trial. In an opinion dated November 10, 1953, Judge Marsh stated that had the defense in that case requested certain specific informant reports of witness Matt Cvetic instead of making a sweeping demand for all of Cvetic's reports, he, Judge Marsh, would have ordered the reports produced because "the claim of confidential privilege was lost when Cvetic began to testify."

CONCLUSION:

Since, therefore, we are always faced with the possibility of the trial judge ordering the production of specified informant reports regardless of whether or not the informant-witness has refreshed his recollection by reviewing these reports outside of the courtroom, there appears to be no sound basis for opposing a request by the Department that informant-witnesses be allowed to review their reports prior to testifying. This review, as pointed out by Mr. Tompkins, will substantially decrease honest inconsistencies in the testimony of informants, which appears highly desirable at this time when informants are under attack, and will enable the informants to bring out all evidence considered of value by Government attorneys.

It is felt, however, that Government attorneys should continue to vigorously oppose all defense requests for production of informant reports and should insist that any such reports be first reviewed in chambers by the trial judge before a decision is reached as to whether the reports should be made available to the defense. The Bureau will, of course, review the reports in question to determine whether there is any sound objection to their ultimate production and will point out to the Department any portions of the reports which should be excised before the reports are turned over to defense counsel.

In his memorandum to the Attorney General, Mr. Tompkins noted that in several instances in which the Government has been required by the court to produce informant reports and where the defense has been permitted to examine such reports, no effort has been made by the defense to offer the reports in evidence. On the contrary, in each such instance where the Government has then offered the reports in evidence, the defense has strenuously objected.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. It is recommended that the Attorney General be advised that the Bureau is willing to discuss, at the convenience of the Department, the desirability of a revised procedure in connection with informant-witnesses not being allowed to review their written reports prior to testifying. A memorandum to the Attorney General is attached.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORTS MADE TO THE BUREAU BY CONFIDENTIAL INFORMANTS

111-111

Reference is made to your memorandum dated April 26, 1955, which referred to my memorandum to the Attorney General dated April 15, 1955, captioned "Ex-Communists as Witnesses."

It is noted that in your memorandum of April 7, 1955, addressed to the Attorney General, you stated:

"It is perfectly apparent that the unusual burdens and responsibilities presently placed on trial attorneys in internal security cases would be considerably eased, and properly so, if they were permitted to make available to a prospective witness any written reports or statements submitted by that witness to the Bureau. It is therefore recommended that consideration be given to the advisability of once again taking this matter up with the Bureau in conference with a view to securing the Bureau's approval of a new procedure in this regard. It also should be pointed out that, in many instances in Smith Act prosecutions, extremely valuable evidence has been lost because of the inability of an informant witness to recall the details of a meeting or of an educational discussion. It is certainly reasonable that in many instances the recollection of the witness as to such details would be refreshed were he permitted to review his own report containing such details."

This Bureau could not be placed in the position of obstructing prosecutions upon which the Department desired to proceed and so this Bureau responded to your memorandum of April 7, 1955, by its memorandum of April 15, 1955, in which it was stated we would leave to the discretion of the Department the desirability of allowing informant witnesses to review their written reports to the Bureau.

This Bureau would prefer not to be consulted prior to the showing of FBI reports to informant-witnesses as the final decision to adopt such a procedure is one which must be made by the Department.

This Bureau has pointed out on many occasions and repeated again in its memorandum of April 15, 1955, the possible consequences of such a procedure as you have decided to adopt in allowing informant-witnesses to review their reports before they take the witness stand. It was not until you pointed out "that in many instances in Smith Act prosecutions, extremely valuable evidence has been lost" because of this Bureau's previously expressed policy of objecting to the procedure of allowing informant-witnesses to review their reports, did we take the position of leaving exclusively to the Department the decision to adopt such a procedure which may well result in introduction into evidence of a large number of FBI reports containing highly confidential matters directly affecting the internal security coverage and responsibilities of this Bureau. This Bureau certainly does not desire to share any part of the responsibility in the determination of which reports may be made available to informant-witnesses for review prior to trial as any objection upon the part of this Bureau would place us in the untenable position of placing "unusual burdens and responsibilities on trial attorneys" and causing the loss of "extremely valuable evidence" as you indicated in your memorandum of April 7, 1955.

COPIES ARE BEING PREPARED FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL AND ROGERS.

Ex-communicants

By memorandum dated April 26, 1955, in response to Bureau memorandum to the Attorney General dated April 15, 1955, the Department indicated it would continue present policy of not allowing informants to review their written reports prior to testifying in Smith Act or other Internal Security cases except on a selective basis and only after all aspects of the situation have been thoroughly explored both by Departmental attorneys and representatives of the Bureau. The Director noted he did not want this done; that Department must accept entire responsibility and Bureau will not agree or disagree; that it should be made clear to the Department that the Bureau does not desire to pass upon the desirability of allowing informant-witnesses to review their reports, and the Bureau will not express any views.

When a defense demand has been made for the production of informant reports in past Smith Act or other Internal Security prosecutions, the Bureau has always stressed to the Department that decisions as to whether reports should be furnished to the judge who might in turn give them to defense counsel, is strictly a decision for the Department to make. We have always reviewed such reports at the Bureau to determine if current confidential informants are mentioned; if information pertaining to national security is included, or if reports contain data which might prove embarrassing to the Government. We have then delivered copies of the reports to Departmental attorneys and have pointed out whether the reports contain any of the information listed above and have again stressed that regardless of what the reports contain, the decision as to whether they are to be turned over to the judge rests solely with the Department. It is noted, however, that we are in a much better position to evaluate our informant reports than are Departmental attorneys and consequently we can point out possible pitfalls or data which the Department may request the judge to excise should the judge decide to make the reports available to defense counsel.

With reference to the current problem of whether or not informant-witnesses should be allowed to review their informant reports prior to testifying, this is, of course, a decision which rests solely with the Department just as the decision as to whether to furnish informant reports to the trial judge. It is felt, however, that the Bureau should in each instance determine in advance from the Government attorney who has interviewed the informant and reviewed the reports exactly which specific reports of the informant-witness he intends to allow him to review prior to testifying. Such reports will be reviewed at the Bureau and will then be delivered to the Department so that a decision can be reached by the Department as to whether the informant should be allowed to review them. It is felt that the Bureau has the responsibility, at that time, to point out to the Department any pertinent information known to us which the Department should consider in arriving at its decision. We will, of course, make completely clear to the Department that the decision as to whether the informant should be allowed to review these reports prior to testifying rests solely with the Department and that the Bureau will in no way pass on the desirability or undesirability of allowing the informant-witness to review the reports in question.

RECOMMENDATION:

If you approve, the attached memorandum should be transmitted to the Department so advising.

I think we should point out that the entire responsibility must rest with the Dept.

I don't think we should do this

I certainly agree.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON
MR. BOARDMAN
MR. BELMONT
MR. NICHOLS

Ex-Communist as witness

During the course of a conference with the Attorney General and the Deputy Attorney General yesterday afternoon incident to the Arthur Sylvester article in the "Newark Evening News," I pointed out that the Bureau was not adamant in its adherence to established practices which it had followed and I cited particularly the recent memorandum addressed to the Attorney General by Assistant Attorney General Tompkins and which was referred to this Bureau concerning the making available to confidential informants copies of their reports to the Bureau in order to refresh their recollection. I stated that the Bureau had very promptly replied and stated that it would not raise any further objection to the suggested procedure of Assistant Attorney General Tompkins in view of the fact that the Internal Security Division had observed in its memorandum to the Attorney General that "unreasonable burdens" had been placed upon the attorneys of the Internal Security Division and "valuable evidence" had been deprived of use in prosecutions by reason of the Bureau's policy of not making reports of informants available for review by proposed informant witnesses. I stated that the Bureau had deferred to the Department's suggestion in this matter, notwithstanding the fact that the Bureau felt that this would be opening the floodgates for the introduction of FBI reports in Smith Act cases, which would result not only in gross embarrassment to the Department but materially impair the security coverage of the FBI.

I further observed to the Attorney General that Assistant Attorney General Tompkins' memorandum had failed to be specific as to the "valuable evidence" of which the Internal Security Division had been deprived and that I personally seriously doubted that there were many instances or, in fact, any instances which would support such a contention.

be any cases in which it would be necessary for FBI reports to be shown to informants to refresh their recollection. The Attorney General observed he could not see why the attorneys handling Smith Act cases could not themselves, by discussion and conversation with proposed informant witnesses, refresh their recollections of the same without actually showing the FBI reports to the informants in view of the fact that the attorneys do have access to all such reports made to the FBI. I observed that this was exactly the view of the FBI and that if the attorneys handling such cases did the necessary "home work" before talking to the proposed informant witnesses, there would be no need of showing the actual reports to the informants which, if done, would no doubt result in the introduction of the reports during the course of the trial of the case.

The Deputy Attorney General stated that in conference with Assistant Attorney General Tompkins it had been agreed that afternoon that in view of the fact there would be very few instances when it might be deemed advisable for an FBI report to be shown to an informant, that such instances would be carefully weighed by the Department and the Bureau before the final decision was reached as to showing the report to the informant witnesses. I observed the Bureau had already indicated it desired to have no part in reaching the decision as to whether a report was or was not to be shown to proposed informant witnesses in view of the accusations made against this Bureau by Assistant Attorney General Tompkins that we had obstructed proceedings of justice by our previous objections.

During the course of this conference yesterday afternoon, I also observed to the Attorney General that the Bureau had, during the course of the last several years, made available to the Department approximately 60 confidential informants for use in public trials and that this was a very serious blow to the internal security coverage of the FBI. I stated, of course, it was not the responsibility of this Bureau to determine which was the most important, namely, initiating numerous prosecutions under the Smith Act or balancing the same as to the importance of security coverage by the FBI so as to enable that organization to meet its responsibilities in the event of war. The Attorney General was somewhat surprised at the large number of informants who had been made available and indicated that he believed that there must be a very careful evaluation before initiating Smith Act prosecutions and a careful weighing of the value of the same as balanced against the necessity for internal security coverage.

Memorandum for Messrs. Tolson, Boardman,
Belmont, Nichols

May 11, 1955

I observed to the Attorney General that I had always thought this should have been done and I did not believe it had been done and, as a consequence, the Department must accept the responsibility if, in the event of war, there is a wave of sabotage or espionage and the FBI had been unable to cope with the situation because, in being deprived of such a large number of confidential informants, it was obvious that the FBI should not be expected and could not be expected to properly meet its responsibilities in the internal security field.

The Deputy Attorney General stated that he thought it was imperative that henceforth there be a very careful evaluation before the disclosure of FBI informants. He observed that there was no one in the Department who could have a proper appreciation of the intelligence interests involved and that quite likely there had been over-emphasis on criminal prosecutions without due evaluation of the intelligence values that might be impaired by exposure of FBI informants.

The Attorney General stated that he believed it would be desirable henceforth, and he so directed the Deputy Attorney General to arrange, that before any Smith Act prosecutions are to be initiated that they must be approved by the Attorney General as is done in Antitrust cases. He stated the reason for having all Antitrust proposed prosecutions passed upon by him is in order to avoid any conflict or prejudicing of interests of other Government agencies and he believed there was a similarity of the problem in connection with the initiation of Smith Act cases which certainly involved the interests of the FBI's internal security responsibilities.

Very truly yours,

Georgetown University, have been contacted by the Fund for the Republic and requested to conduct a research study looking into the reliability of certain Government witnesses used in security-type cases such as Elizabeth T. Bentley, Louis F. Budenz and Whittaker Chambers. This study is reportedly to be based upon the public record only looking toward any inconsistencies in the testimony of the above witnesses and the weight of credibility that can be placed in them.

The University has been offered $75,000 to $100,000 to conduct this study over a period of one year. We have been informed that the University is presently considering the advisability of undertaking such a study. I am attaching a memorandum to me from the Director of the FBI dated April 29, 1955, on the above subject. I am sending a copy of this memorandum to Mr. Hoover, so that if either of you have any suggestions to make as to how to handle this particular matter I would be glad to get them.

Ex-Communists as witnesses

Attached hereto is a Photostat of an article entitled "Secret Witnesses Problem in Loyalty Program Test" which appeared in the "Newark Evening News," Newark, New Jersey, on April 22, 1955. The article attributes comments to a Departmental attorney concerning the Bureau's procedure in making confidential informants available for interviews by Departmental attorneys. Newark News

The Bureau's procedure with reference to making potential witnesses available for interview by Government attorneys in security-type cases has been followed since the first Red Roth Smith Act trial in 1949. This procedure has withstood the test of numerous successful cases and the Department has never indicated that it has caused Departmental attorneys any inconvenience. During numerous conferences held by Bureau representatives with Departmental officials and attorneys, no difference of opinion has ever been expressed concerning this established procedure.

In connection with Smith Act and other security-type cases, the Bureau submits to the Department investigative and prosecutive summary reports wherein T symbols are used only where it is absolutely necessary to protect the informant or source. Complete information furnished by such informants and sources is, of course, set out in the reports. Should the Department consider prosecution under any existing statute, Departmental attorneys select from those reports those T symbol informants who appear to be desirable or necessary witnesses and an inquiry is made of the Bureau as to the availability to testify of such T symbol informants.

The Bureau's reply to the inquiry by the Department may fall within any of the following categories:

(a) If the informant is a current, valuable informant whose exposure would seriously impair security coverage in the field office involved, the Department is advised that this informant is not available for interview. If the Department subsequently states that the informant is absolutely essential to a successful prosecution, we reconsider and re-evaluate the situation and, where possible, we make the informant available.

(b) If the informant has been discontinued but has not been exposed as a former Bureau informant, the Department is advised that he is available for interview under appropriate security precautions. His name is not disclosed at this point since the Department may ultimately decide not to utilize him.

(c) If the informant has been discontinued and exposed as a former Bureau informant, his identity is furnished to the Department and the Department is advised that he is available for interview.

(d) If the T symbol represents an individual who has never been a confidential informant of the Bureau but who requested that his identity be kept confidential, he is first contacted by a Bureau Agent to determine his willingness or unwillingness to be interviewed by Government attorneys. If he is willing to be interviewed, his name and the fact that he is available for interview are made known to the Department. If he does not desire to be interviewed, the Department is advised that he is unavailable.

It is true that interviews with current informants and discontinued informants who have not been exposed are conducted under security precautions and the informant is introduced under an alias. This procedure is followed solely to preserve the informant as a surprise witness should he actually testify and to protect his identity and future value should the Department decide not to utilize him as a witness. Departmental attorneys have actually stated that they do not desire to know the identity of the informant until a decision is made to use him as a witness since they do not want to be burdened with this additional security responsibility.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

A continuing intensive campaign is conducted by the Communist Party to uncover FBI informants. The Bureau knows, for example, that the Communist Party places its own members under surveillance in an attempt to ferret out our informants. Unless, therefore, interviews between informants and Government attorneys are conducted with the utmost security as to location and timing, the informants will be uncovered.

It is true that a Bureau Agent is present during the interview with the informant by Government attorneys. The Bureau Agent is present solely to introduce the informant to the attorneys and to put him at ease. It is also true that the Bureau Agent does not assist in the interview since this is strictly a matter for the Government attorneys to handle.

It is difficult for me to understand why an attorney of the Department of Justice would air his complaints to the press rather than call his views to the attention of this Bureau.

Secret Witnesses Problem In Loyalty Program Test

By ARTHUR SYLVESTER

Washington Bureau.

WASHINGTON — Justice Department trial lawyers were sympathizing today with U.S. Supreme Court concern at being blocked from examining secret information in a test of the federal loyalty-security program.

Atty. Gen. Brownell's own legal experts often have to go through amazingly involved procedures imposed by the FBI in order to prosecute cases involving derogatory information dug up by Director J. Edgar Hoover's agents. Hoover's power to determine who may be called by the Justice Department as a witness and who may not, has confounded lawyers accustomed to free and easy cooperation by police agencies when trying cases at lower levels of government.

Chief Justice Earl Warren and other members of the high court were surprised Wednesday to learn from Asst. Atty. Gen. Warren E. Burger they were not free to look at certain information they considered material in the appeal of Dr. John P. Peters of Yale University to confront the unidentified accusers who brought about his dismissal from government service. The justices pressed Burger to produce the information on which the government acted so the court could determine whether the government was justified in withholding it from Dr. Peters.

Issue in Case

Burger insisted that was part of the issue in the case. "It would take a Presidential order to release that information to anyone outside the Executive Branch," Burger said. The government acknowledges that even the Civil Service Loyalty Review Board which sat in judgment on Dr. Peters did not know the identity of all the secret infor-

That question was echoed by a Justice Department lawyer who recently had to prosecute a case involving loyalty information under circumstances made fantastically difficult by FBI demands for what amounted to cloak-and-dagger methods.

Forecasts Curb

"You would have thought I was the counsel for the Communists, not the government prosecutor," the Justice Department official recalled. "I have never experienced anything like it in my life. It's an unbelievable way of doing business and I think Atty. Gen. Brownell will be forced to put a curb on Hoover's nonsense."

The department prosecutor told how he was assigned to the case "cold." But instead of being aided by the FBI in preparing the government's case he found his work made more difficult.

"The FBI sends you a list of possible government witnesses the agency has at its command. They aren't identified by names but by symbols and numbers. With each is a summary of what the witness can testify to and an evaluation of his credibility. The ratings range from good to bad."

Request Sent

"On the basis of this meager information, you try to figure out which of the witnesses you would like to talk to in an effort to build your court case. So you indicate those you would like to talk to and send the request along through channels to Director Hoover. If he sees fit to grant the request arrangements are made for you to meet the proposed witness."

"At this point the fun really begins. Not only do these witnesses have assumed names, and it's under assumed names and it's under these names that I, as a government prosecutor, first meet them, I am allowed to.

"Now if Mr. Hoover decides you may talk with the government witness you have asked to see it probably won't be in a Justice Department office. Oh no! You will have to meet him in a motel in Maryland or Virginia, or in an automobile just outside the District of Columbia line. It makes you feel more like arranging a contact with a lottery operator than preparing to represent the government of the U.S."

FBI Man Present

"That isn't all. You can't even talk to these witnesses without an FBI man always being present. It's not that he does anything to help you organize your case or material, quite the contrary. I know it sounds unbelievable, but that's the way it is and there's more of the same. I know because I have been through it."

The reason given by Asst. Atty. Gen. Burger to Justice Frankfurter why the government is so secretive with its own instruments was that some informants decline to provide information to the FBI unless they are assured their identity will not be disclosed to other agencies. He said the government has no choice.

"I suggest," retorted Frankfurter, "that there is such a choice as not using such an informant... if you can't trust another tribunal with the information."

"All I know," said the Justice Department prosecutor, "is there's a better way of doing it than the FBI has now. For one thing a little less of this excessive FBI secrecy and we wouldn't be stuck with these turn-about witnesses."

My memorandum of April 29, 1955, advised you that Mr. Mario Noto, Immigration and Naturalization Service representative on the above committee had advised me that the committee would furnish the minutes to the Bureau for its information. The minutes of the first six meetings of the committee were received on May 2, 1955. The minutes of the first meeting, held on April 6, 1955, are being reviewed by separate memorandum.

The minutes which have been received have been reviewed and matters of interest are set out below under the date of the particular meeting at which discussed.

April 12, 1955

The committee adopted a proposal that prosecutors of Government cases should be instructed to report to the local field offices of FBI and INS any adverse information developed on a witness during the proceedings. It had previously been agreed that Government prosecutors would check local FBI and INS records concerning prospective witnesses prior to their use and this was reiterated. (This has been made the subject of a separate memorandum.)

The committee discussed the problem of assuring the availability of persons whose testimony has been regularly used in the past. (It is presumed that the committee had in mind such persons as Maurice Malkin, Ben Gitlow, [redacted] and [redacted]). Among the alternatives suggested were assuring such individuals that they would be needed a minimum time monthly, such as twenty days, for a period of up to two years; attempting to have one of the public foundations establish a fund to assure that the persons would have an income when not testifying; attempting to procure employment with public-spirited organizations.

Ex-Committees As Witnesses

April 14, 1955

At this meeting, Mr. Noto was designated chairman of the committee. The committee discussed a number of ex-Communists who have been used as witnesses; however, no decision was reached concerning the future use of those persons discussed. Among those discussed were Matthew Cvetic, [redacted] Louis Budenz and others.

April 19, 1955

The committee discussed the derogatory information available regarding Matthew Cvetic and deferred decision as to his future use as a Government witness.

April 21, 1955

The committee discussed the future use of Matthew Cvetic and recommended that Cvetic not be used as a Government witness unless in a specific case what he will testify to is essential and is corroborated from independent sources. Decision to use Cvetic shall be the responsibility of the using division.

The committee reviewed information furnished by INS concerning Earl Reno and recommended that he be cleared for use as a witness.

April 26, 1955

The committee reviewed information available concerning Ben Gitlow and recommended that he be cleared for use as a Government witness.

The committee reviewed information concerning [redacted] and concluded that [redacted] may be used at any instance in which he is a desirable and material witness and what he will testify to is corroborated.

This is for your information. You will be kept advised of the activities of the above committee.

SUBJECT: TREASON MATTERS

EX Communists As Witnesses

Reference is made to the Washington News Service release of May 5, 1955, reporting that Assistant Attorney General William F. Tompkins in his appearance before the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee stated that the number of "cases of possible treason" referred to the Department had now reached 218. Mr. Nichols asked if we have these 218 cases. This statement of Tompkins was commented upon in your memorandum to Mr. Boardman dated April 13, 1955, captioned "Review of Testimony of Warren Olney III and William F. Tompkins, Department Officials, Before Committee on Appropriations - 1956."

These cases arose out of the referral to us by G-2 of counterintelligence files reflecting evidence of possible treasonous conduct by the subjects developed through Army investigation and interrogation of returned Korean prisoners of war. They were reviewed by us and referred to the Department for an opinion as to whether the alleged activities constituted overt acts of treason within the meaning of the Treason Statute and, therefore, warranted investigation. The number of cases referred was substantially correct as of the date Tompkins' testimony was given. Since then, however, the Department has from day to day completed its reviews of the cases referred and rendered its decisions. In all except three cases thus far reviewed, the Department has advised that the evidence does not indicate overt acts of treason provable by the testimony of two witnesses required by the Constitution and, therefore, does not warrant investigation. The three cases are being investigated.

Our records reflect that, as of May 6, 1955, there were still 172 cases in this category under consideration by the Department and this figure is diminishing day to day as the Department's decisions are received.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be routed to Mr. Nichols for his information.

The minutes of the meetings of the above Committee on April 28, May 3, and May 10, 1955, have been reviewed and the following items of interest noted:

MEETING OF APRIL 28, 1955

The Committee considered proposed instructions to United States attorneys and Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) field offices relating to the use of ex-Communists as witnesses. Decision was deferred as to the form and nature of instructions to be issued.

MEETING OF MAY 3, 1955

The Committee considered the general matter of the payment of fees and expenses to witnesses. Further consideration of the matter was placed on the agenda for the May 5, 1955, meeting.

Further discussion was had regarding instructions to be issued to United States attorneys and INS field offices relating to the use of ex-Communists as witnesses. Decision was deferred as to the form and nature of instructions to be issued.

MEETING OF MAY 10, 1955

The Chairman of the Committee stated that he had advised the Deputy Attorney General that the Committee had considered the Bureau's memorandum of April 28, 1955, concerning [redacted] and had concluded that it contained no information that had not previously been considered by the Committee. In accordance with the request of Mr. Nichols there is set out below the types of cases in which the Department has exposed 53 of our informants by using them as witnesses. As mentioned previously by Mr. Nichols this compilation is based upon a canvass of Bureau Supervisors. Mr. Nichols pointed out that there is a possibility that there may be a few others but to determine this would necessitate checking the files of all discontinued confidential informants which would be an extensive research project. It was not recommended that the latter be done.

In addition to the above we are in the process of making available one additional informant to INS in connection with deportation proceedings relating to Chinese.* With regard to INS cases it has been our policy to extend complete cooperation to that Agency and there may have been instances in the past when we have made available nonactive informants not previously exposed for use by that Agency. As a result of our poll it has not been possible to determine the names of any such informants, or of any active informants.

It is recommended that this be routed to Mr. Nichols for his information.

At the request of Mr. Nichols earlier this week a compilation of informants, which the Bureau has made available to the Department in connection with prosecution of various types of cases, was made. Mr. Donohue on the informant desk determined that there were a total of 53 such informants which have been made available, 33 of which were in the Smith Act cases.

Mr. Nichols advised at 6:35 p.m. that the Director now wants a break-down on these informants as to the types of cases being prosecuted by the Department and the number of informants made available in each type of case. He also wants to be sure we include in this compilation the number of informants which have been made available to Immigration and Naturalization Service in connection with the deportation proceedings. He wants this information the first thing Monday morning.

My memorandum of April 29, 1955, advised you that Mr. Mario Noto, Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) representative on the above committee, had advised me that the committee would furnish the minutes to the Bureau for its information. For your information the minutes of the first six meetings of the committee were received on May 2, 1955.

The first meeting of the committee was held on April 6, 1955. According to the minutes it was decided that the records of the committee would be maintained in a classified file available only to certain executives of the Department and members of the committee.

It was further decided that the functions of the committee would be: (1) Securing the presence of witnesses when needed; (2) Coordinating their use when conflicting demands are made; (3) Determining questions of credibility where raised; (4) Determining whether action should be taken on past cases in which a discredited witness testified.

Of particular interest to the Bureau was a discussion as to the procedure to be established for determining whether a former Communist Party member may be utilized as a witness. It was concluded that, subject to Mr. Rogers' approval, the procedure would be as follows:

When the attorney in charge of prosecuting a case or proceeding proposes to call a former Party member, the attorney shall request a name check from the local office of the FBI and the local office of INS for any adverse information concerning the proposed witness. If there is no such information the witness may be called. In the event such information exists the attorney would make a report through regular channels to the committee. Final responsibility for the use of the former Party member would be left to the attorney. Clearance from the committee could only signify that in the opinion of the committee no derogatory information sufficient to preclude use had been found; the determination to have attorneys check with the FBI and immigration field offices was predicated on the assumption that all information in the Department on ex-Communist Party witnesses will be made available to the FBI and INS.

Memo from Mr. Belmont to Mr. Boardman
May 17, 1955

During a review of the minutes of the meeting of May 5, 1955, received at the Bureau May 9, 1955, it was ascertained that the committee decided that trial attorneys will request local field offices of the FBI and INS for a check of their records for pertinent information concerning former Communist Party members who are to be used as Government witnesses. Appropriate cases will be furnished to the committee for consideration.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the Department be advised that although we have no objection to Departmental attorneys and INS personnel making name checks with our field offices, we feel that these personnel should be aware that more complete information concerning prospective witnesses may be available at Bureau headquarters and for this reason we would suggest that these name checks be made at Bureau headquarters. It is being stated that this does not change our present agreement with INS to furnish pertinent information from our local field office files upon request. If you approve, there is attached a letter to Deputy Attorney General Rogers with a copy each to Assistant Attorney General Tompkins, Assistant Attorney General Olney and General Swing.

It is noted in reviewing the minutes of the above committee for the meetings of April 6, 1955, and May 5, 1955, that the committee decided that trial attorneys of the Department and personnel of the Immigration and Naturalization Service will request local field offices of the FBI for pertinent information concerning former Communist Party members who are to testify as Government witnesses. Although there is no objection to Department and Immigration and Naturalization Service personnel making such a check of our local field offices whenever an ex-Communist is being considered as a Government witness, it is felt that more complete information may often be available at FBI headquarters in Washington, D. C.

It is, therefore, suggested that any requests for information concerning prospective witnesses be submitted to FBI headquarters rather than to local field offices of the FBI. If possible, sufficient background data should be furnished to FBI headquarters to permit a thorough search of our files when making any request for information of this type.

The above does not change our present agreement with the Immigration and Naturalization Service to furnish pertinent information from the files of our local field offices upon request.

SUBJECT: DEPARTMENTAL COMMITTEE ON SECURITY WITNESSES

EX-Communists as Witnesses

Minutes of the meeting of the above Committee on May 12, 1955, have been received.

The Committee designated Rufus D. McLean, Criminal Division, to prepare a letter for the Deputy Attorney General's signature addressed to all U. S. Attorneys advising that if from information at hand concerning any proposed witness adverse facts are present which cause the trial attorney to reasonably question the reliability of the witness, he should request the Department for advice as to whether the witness should be used.

Mr. Mario T. Noto, Immigration and Naturalization Service representative, advised the Committee that the Commissioner INS, is endeavoring to secure a position in private industry for Maurice Malkin. Malkin is the former INS informant and witness who was released from regular employment and who adopted an unco-operative attitude as a result.

The Committee discussed the derogatory information with respect to [redacted] and deferred decision as to his future use as a Government witness until the next meeting.
